About PTIB

The Private Training Institutions Branch (PTIB) of the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills regulates private institutions that offer career training programs in British Columbia.

The governing legislation is the Private Training Act (PTA) and related regulations which came into force in 2016 in order to:

- Set higher quality standards for institutions
- Strengthen consumer protection
- Streamline administrative processes
- Reduce the regulatory burden for registered institutions

Private Training Act

Private Training Regulation

Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation

The Online Directory at www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca lists:

- Current information about certified institutions and the programs they offer
- Institutions whose certificates have expired
- Enforcement actions, including compliance orders, administrative penalties, suspensions, cancellations and injunctions
- Information about reconsideration and appeals

About this Manual

This manual is designed to help private institutions understand and comply with the PTA and associated regulations. It also serves to inform students and the general public about the regulatory requirements for private training in British Columbia.

Glossary of Terms is included at the end of this manual.

This manual is not a replacement for the PTA and its regulations, which will prevail in the case of any discrepancy. For the full text of the PTA and regulations, go to www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca.

PTIB may amend this manual from time to time. For the most current version, go to www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca.

Chapter 1: Certification

This chapter of the manual supports:

- Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 of the Private Training Act
- Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 of the Private Training Regulation
- Section 3 and 4 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation

The PTA sets out the approach for regulating career training in British Columbia. The process is called certification, and institutions can choose from one of two distinct pathways to achieve it – registration or designation.

The following chapter offers information on:

- Who must be certified
- Certificate types
- Requirements for certification
- The application process, step-by-step

1.1 Who requires a certificate?

Private institutions in British Columbia require a certificate if they provide, or offer to provide, at least one career-related program with:

- 40 hours or more of instructional time, and
- Tuition of at least $4,000

This applies to all programs, whether delivered in class or by distance education.

These are called Class A programs.

The PTA does not apply to:

- Elementary, middle and secondary schools
- British Columbia public post-secondary degree-granting institutions
- Private post-secondary degree-granting institutions that only offer degree programs
- Professional organizations established under an Act providing career-related programs to their members, if the program is part of professional requirements or for the purpose of professional development

For a complete list of excluded institutions, see Appendix 1.

To request confirmation that your institution is excluded from regulation under the PTA, contact PTIB at PTI@gov.bc.ca.

1.2 Certificate types

Institutions can apply for either a registration certificate or a designation certificate.

Registration is the minimum requirement for private institutions offering Class A programs (defined in Section 1.1 above).

Designation is associated with a higher level of quality. Only designated institutions can:

- Apply for the B.C. Education Quality Assurance (EQA) designation and, once EQA is achieved, enrol international students on study permits
- Apply for StudentAid BC (SABC)

Interim designation may be issued when an institution applies for, but does not meet, all the requirements for designation.

Voluntary designation

Institutions not offering Class A programs may apply for designation if they offer a Class B or Class C program. They may not apply for registration.

See Section 2.1 for a complete description of the classes of programs.

For more on EQA and SABC see Section 5.4.

One of the requirements for a designation certificate is to have held a certificate for one year.<sup>1</sup> This means that first time applicants will not be issued a designation certificate but may be eligible for an interim designation certificate.

1.3 Requirements for a certificate

Institutions may apply for a registration or a designation certificate.

Institutions that do not meet the requirements for designation may be issued an interim designation certificate. The following table outlines the requirements for each type of certificate.

Part One: Requirement for first-time applicants for a certificate
<input type="checkbox"/> Attend an orientation session.

<sup>1</sup> Institutions in the Indigenous institution class do not have to meet this requirement for designation, and will be issued a designation certificate once they meet the requirements for certification. Institutions in this class will be able to apply for EQA and SABC designation once they receive their designation certificate.

Part Two: Requirements for all certificates
<input type="checkbox"/> Have a valid Business BCeID (British Columbia Electronic Identification) account. A Business BCeID is required to access the Private Training Institutions Portal. To get a Business BCeID, go to https://www.bceid.ca/ .
<input type="checkbox"/> Submit an application for certification (institutions applying for certification for the first time must include with their Application – New Certification, at least one application for a program that requires approval).
<input type="checkbox"/> Offer at least one program that requires approval by the registrar.
<input type="checkbox"/> Have general liability insurance.
<input type="checkbox"/> If the institution has continuously held a certificate for the last two years, the institution must have provided an approved program in at least one of those years.
<input type="checkbox"/> Institution must be fit and proper to provide a career training program.
<input type="checkbox"/> Provide financial security, if required by the registrar.  First time applicants will generally be required to provide security in the amount of $25,000.<sup>2</sup>
<input type="checkbox"/> Pay any outstanding fees, fines or payments.
<input type="checkbox"/> Submit a student data report for the previous fiscal year (if not a first-time applicant).
<input type="checkbox"/> Submit business plan (first-time applicant) or financial statements for the previous fiscal year (if not a first-time applicant).

Part Three: Requirements for designation – in addition to the requirements for all certificates listed in Part Two
<input type="checkbox"/> Have been continuously certified for the past year. This means that first time applicants do not meet the requirements for a designation certificate.
<input type="checkbox"/> Have students enrolled in at least 50% of the approved programs – either currently or at some point in the one-year period that ends on the expiry date included in the institution’s current certificate.

1.4 Applying for a certificate for the first time

This section of the manual applies to institutions applying for a certificate for the first time.

For information on re-certification, see Chapter 5.

Step 1:

Attend an orientation session.

Someone legally authorized to act on behalf of the institution, or the Senior Educational Administrator for the institution, must complete an orientation session. Where space allows, more than one person may attend. For more information about how to join the next scheduled orientation session, go to www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca.

Step 2:

Have a valid Business BCeID account. Once you have created a Business BCeID account, you will need to provide the full name, email address and BCeID User ID of the BCeID account holder for your institution by emailing this information to PTI@gov.bc.ca. This email must be sent from the email account associated with your BCeID account. Once certified, you will use your BCeID to access the PTIB Portal (see Chapter 3).

Step 3:

Submit an application for certification using the Application – New Certification available in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab at www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca<http://www.xxxx/>. Select one of the following certificate application types:

- Registration
- Designation

First time applicants for a designation certificate will not be issued a designation certificate. One of the requirements for a designation certificate is to have held a certificate for one year; therefore, an interim-designation certificate may be issued. This means a new certificate holder will not have access to StudentAidBC or to EQA for at least one year after the interim designation certificate is issued.

The Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills announced on January 29, 2024, that the Province of British Columbia is implementing a two-year moratorium, until February 2026, on new EQA designations, effective immediately. New institutions will not have access to the federal Designated Learning Institutions list to recruit international students until the moratorium ends. Current institutions may renew their EQA designation during this period.

For a complete list of the information and records required with the application, see Appendix 2.

Business Plan

Institutions applying for a certificate for the first time must submit a business plan that includes the following elements:

- Industry/market analysis
- Marketing plan
- Financial plan

The estimated tuition revenue from approved programs provided in the business plan will be used to assess fees and payments to the Student Tuition Protection Fund charged for the certificate term.

The template for the Business Plan can be found in Appendix 3.

Step 4:

To be certified, institutions must offer at least one program that requires PTIB approval.

Submit new program applications for all programs.

For each new program, submit an Application – New Program. For programs that you believe do not require approval, use the Request for Confirmation of Program Class form.

Submit new program applications for all programs at the same time you submit your Application – New Certification.

Application forms are available on the Forms, Templates and Resources page of the PTIB website. Email the completed applications along with all required records set out in Appendix 4 to PTI@gov.bc.ca.

For more information about new program applications, see Section 2.3.

Step 5:*Pay application fees

Fee	Amount
Registration Application Fee	$3,300
Designation Application Fee	$3,300
New Program Application Fee	See Chapter 2

All application fees are not refundable.

Step 6:*Site inspection

For first-time applicants, PTIB will inspect all locations from where the institution will offer programs. The cost of the inspection is included in the application fee.

For more information on inspections, see Chapter 4.

Step 7:

The registrar will assess the application, and, if applicable, require the institution to provide security. Most first-time applicants are required to post financial security of at least $25,000.

For more on security, see Chapter 8.

Step 8:

Once an institution has met the requirements for a certificate, the registrar will issue a certificate for each location of the institution.

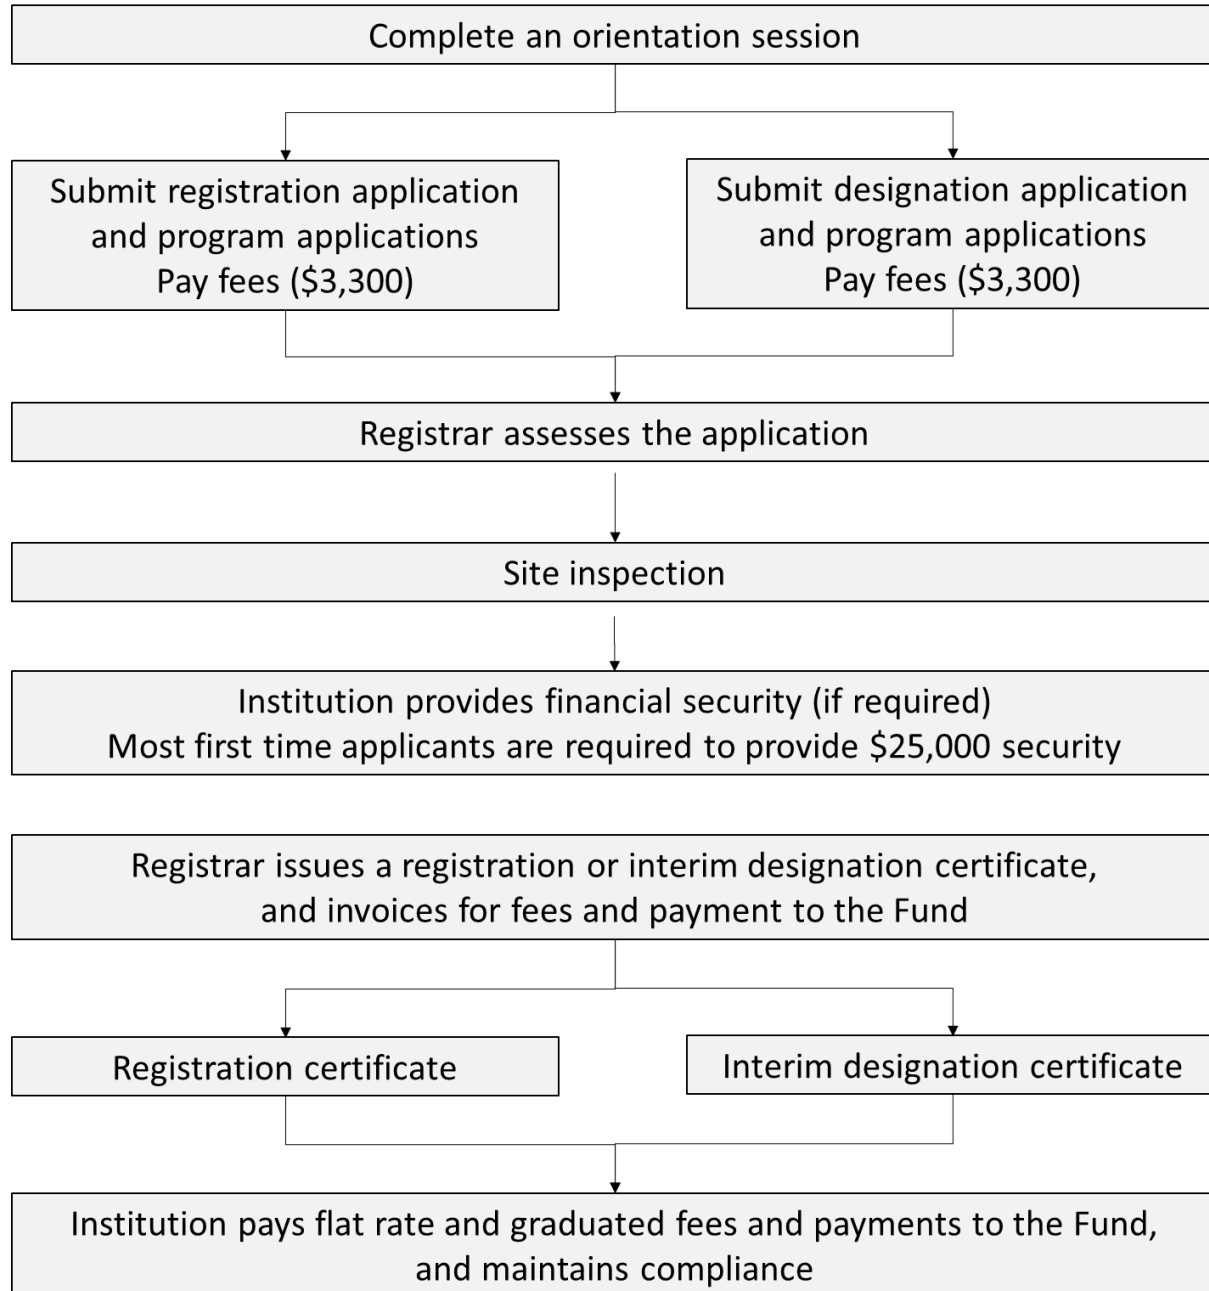

The certificate must be printed and prominently displayed at each location for which a certificate was issued. Certificates must remain posted until they expire, or are surrendered or cancelled.

Along with their certificate(s), the institution will receive an invoice, setting out the fees and payments for the certificate term. These will include:

- Flat rate fees
- Graduated fees
- Payments to the Student Tuition Protection Fund (the Fund)

For more on fees and payments to the Fund, see Chapter 7.

Initial Application for a Certificate – Process Overview

1.5 Registrar refuses to issue certificate

The registrar may refuse to issue a certificate if the requirements have not been met. In that case, the registrar will provide the reasons in writing.

The institution may not reapply for a certificate for 12 months following receipt of the decision.

The institution may request a reconsideration of the decision. For details see Chapter 10.

Chapter 2: Programs

This chapter of the manual supports:

- Sections 11 and 12 of the Private Training Act
- Sections 10-14 of the Private Training Regulation
- Section 5 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation.

2.1 Programs that require approval

Programs requiring approval from the registrar fall into three categories:

- Class A: Career-related programs with 40 or more hours of instruction, for which tuition is at least $4,000. A career-related program is defined as a program that has the purpose of enhancing students' employability or ability to carry out a career occupation.
- Class B: Career-related programs at designated/interim designated institutions, other than Class A programs, for which tuition is at least $1,000.
- Class C: Language programs at designated/interim designated institutions that are longer than six months or for which tuition is at least $4,000. A language program is defined as a program that has as its learning objective that students gain or improve proficiency in a language.

2.2 Excluded occupations and examples of programs that do not require approval

Programs leading to the following career occupations (described in the current edition of the National Occupational Classification) do not require approval:

- i. 4154 (professional occupations in religion)
- ii. 4217 (other religious occupations)
- iii. 5232 (other performers)
- iv. 6564 (other personal service occupations), other than feng shui practitioner, massager, masseur/masseuse, and Reiki master

Also exempt from requiring approval is training for the following career occupations:

- Driving motor vehicles with a class 1,2, 3 or 4 driver's licence
- Operating a vehicle equipped with air brakes under the Motor Vehicle Act
- Driver training instruction as defined in the Motor Vehicle Act Regulations, BC Reg. 26/58

Examples of programs that do not require approval

- A career-related program at a registered institution for which tuition is less than $4,000
- A career-related program at a designated institution for which tuition is less than $1,000
- A language program at a designated institution that is no more than six months and less than $4,000
- Any language program at a registered institution
- A commercial driving instruction program

“Employer provided programs”

Programs in which all students enrolled are funded by one employer or one third party (“employer provided programs”) do not require approval unless they are offered to international students on study permits.

For a program to qualify as an employer provided program not requiring approval, all students enrolled in each offering of the program must be funded at 100% by the same employer or third party. Separate offerings of the program may be made to different third parties, but in each case all students in that offering must be funded by the same third party. In addition, the program must not be provided to international students requiring a study permit.

You may be required at any time to provide a copy of the agreement(s) between your institution and any employer or other third party to which this program is provided to demonstrate that the program continues to meet the definition of an employer-provided program.

To request confirmation of whether a new program requires approval, including programs that you believe do not require approval, submit a Request for Confirmation of Program Class form. Institutions intending to offer an existing approved program as an employer provided program must also submit a Request for Confirmation of Program Class form.

2.3 Submitting programs

Submit new program applications for all programs.

Submit an application for each new program, whether the program requires approval or is a program that does not require approval.

For new programs that require approval, use the Application – New Program form.

To request confirmation of whether a new program requires approval, including programs that you believe do not require approval, use the Request for Confirmation of Program Class form.

Application forms are available on the Forms, Templates and Resources page of the PTIB website. Email the completed application along with all required records set out in Appendix 4 to PTI@gov.bc.ca.

Identify a program evaluator (if required):

Designated/interim designated institutions applying for approval of a Class A program must submit a program evaluation unless the registrar has informed the institution that an evaluation, or certain elements of the evaluation, is not required (see “Program Evaluations” for more information). Institutions may find potential evaluators through professional associations, business networking, regulators, other institutions (public or private), members of their program advisory committee, etc. Also, the PTIB website provides a list of people with subject matter expertise in a variety of fields:

<https://www.privateinstitutions.gov.bc.ca/institutions/subject-matter-experts>.

It is the institution’s responsibility to ensure that the evaluator has the appropriate background. If an evaluation report is not completed by an appropriate program evaluator the registrar may, at her discretion, decline to accept it as meeting the requirement and require an entirely new report. The registrar may also deny the application and require the institution to start over. Institutions in doubt about whether an evaluator is suitable, are recommended to continue their search.

The registrar will assess whether each program requires approval and, if so, the class it is in. For details on the information and records required, see Appendix 4.

Pay any applicable fees. See Section 2.5 for more information.

When providing materials to PTIB, please ensure they can be opened and edited freely. Do not send materials that are password protected or otherwise secured.

All application fees are not refundable.

Prior to program approval

A certified institution may advertise a program that requires approval, after the program has been submitted for approval but before the program has been approved, but MUST NOT:

- Enrol students
- Accept tuition
- Sign student contracts

An EQA designated institution* that advertises a program prior to PTIB approval must specify in the advertising that the program is not yet available.

\ EQA designation requires a high degree of transparency. Under the EQA Policy and Procedures Manual, institutions are required to provide full and accurate information regarding their operations, regulatory authority, program offerings, tuition rates and refund policies affecting prospective and current students. The EQA suitability assessment will include a review of all advertised programs that require approval.*

Program Evaluations

A new program evaluation is a required part of an application for a Class A program submitted by a designated/interim designated institution, or by an applicant for a designation certificate. It may also be required, at the registrar's discretion, for any other new program or program change requiring approval.

The program evaluation is an important tool that provides the registrar an unbiased opinion about the program submitted for approval.

The registrar may waive the requirement for a program evaluation or elements of that evaluation for a new program application. Requests to waive a program evaluation must be made in advance of application submission. An application submitted without a program evaluation, unless previously waived, will be considered incomplete and will not be accepted for review. Send requests to waive an evaluation to PTI@gov.bc.ca. Include your rationale for requesting the waiver.

Generally, applications for new Class A programs at designated/interim designated institutions, and institutions applying for designation, will require a full program evaluation including an in-person site visit by the evaluator with the submission of a program application. Virtual site visits are only accepted under exceptional circumstances and must be approved in advance by the PTIB.

The complete evaluation report must be sent directly to PTIB by the program evaluator. Where appropriate, the program evaluator may choose to include photographs or other documentation with their report. The report should be emailed as an attachment and sent to PTI@gov.bc.ca.

For more information about program evaluations including hiring a program evaluator and when the registrar may waive the requirement for a program evaluation, see Appendix 10: New Program Evaluation Guide.

The program evaluation must include sufficient analysis. Program evaluations with no or insufficient analysis will not be accepted.

For more information, including a list of subject matter experts (SMEs) who have experience working with PTIB and certified institutions, go to <https://www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca/institutions/subject-matter-experts>.

2.4 Program Approval

Considerations for Approval

The registrar must take into account the following considerations when deciding whether to approve a program:

a) Whether the program title is consistent with the learning objectives of the program.

In practical terms, this means confirming that the program title:

- Accurately reflects the subject matter of the program;
- Accurately reflects the scope of the program;
- Accurately reflects career occupations for which the program is intended to prepare program graduates, and which will realistically be open to them; and
- Is not misleading about any of the above aspects of the program.

Use of “Advanced”, “Specialist” and similar terms in a program title

In particular with respect to the use of 'Advanced' or other such terms in a program title, the registrar's decision will be based on consideration of whether it is adequately supported by one or more of:

- admission requirements that include substantive quantifiable and documented background (education and/or occupational experience) in the primary subject area of the program;
- learning objectives that demonstrate the program's scope prepares students with skills and knowledge of substantively greater depth and/or breadth than programs in the subject area leading to a regular (i.e. non-Advanced, non-Specialist) credential of the same type (e.g. an Advanced Diploma as compared with a Diploma) at various institutions;
- career outcomes (jobs for which graduates will be prepared based solely on the program curriculum and any previous related skills or knowledge specified in the admission requirements, without additional education or work experience) that are at a higher level of pay and/or responsibility than those accessible to graduates of a regular program;

or

- demonstrated articulation agreements with recognized institutions confirming that graduation from the program will entitle a student to advanced standing, 'laddering' opportunities, etc., in related programs leading to a higher credential.

Any of the above must be in relation to the primary subject area to which the program title refers; addition of skills in a secondary area (such as ESL or business) does not make a program 'advanced'.

The registrar will consider whether a program is 'Advanced' in relation to programs in that subject at any institution, not only in relation to another program at the same institution.

PTIB has identified a number of program title terms and provided a list of corresponding expectations for program outcomes or requirements. This list should not be considered exhaustive: any term used in a program title must accurately reflect the content and learning objectives of the program.

Program title terminology:

Advanced	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ Program learning outcomes prepare the graduate for more than entry level work in a field.</li> <li>○ Admission requirements include previous experience or education in the field of study, such that students coming into the program are prepared for study at a more advanced level and can qualify for more than entry level positions in a field of study after graduation.</li> </ul>
Specialist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ Program learning outcomes reflect in-depth, focused training in specific area of a career.</li> <li>○ Admission requirements include previous education or experience in the field of study.</li> <li>○ Institution is able to provide evidence of employability of graduates as 'specialists'.</li> </ul>
University Transfer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ Program is transferrable, in its entirety, providing transfer credit for all courses into a bachelor-level program offered by a university in British Columbia.</li> </ul>
Post-Diploma	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ Admission requirements include a recognized diploma in the career area (not a certificate, or 'equivalent credential')</li> <li>○ Program learning outcomes increase knowledge already acquired by the diploma required for entry into the program.</li> </ul>
Post-Baccalaureate Diploma	Program's admission requirements include a recognized degree in the career area (not a diploma, a certificate, or 'equivalent credential'), and the program's contents and objectives must either increase knowledge in the area of the degree or provide skills that can be applied in the occupational area of the degree.
Graduate Certificate/diploma (including post-graduate certificate/diploma)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ 'Graduate' or 'post-graduate' in program title or credential infers studies at a graduate level (masters) and, therefore, can only be used in the following circumstances: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ The institution already has consent to grant masters degrees in the same discipline under the Degree Authorization Act; and/or</li> <li>▪ Credits from the credential are recognized for transfer by a British Columbia public research university towards a master's degree in the same field.</li> </ul> </li> </ul>
Certified	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ Program must be recognized by a third-party certifying body. that is widely recognized by B.C. employers or discipline experts as the recognized certifying body for the field. Additionally, the program's materials and advertising must explicitly describe what the certifying body is, and how students achieve and maintain certification.</li> </ul>

PTIB may require a Subject Matter Expert to review the program to assist in making a determination as to whether the title appropriately represents the program's level of study/qualification.

- b) Whether the learning objectives of the program are relevant to and adequate for the career occupation for which the program is intended to prepare the student
- c) Whether the program leads to a credential
- d) Whether the following are appropriate to enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program:
  - i. the number of hours of instruction<sup>3</sup>
  - ii. The maximum number of students that may be admitted in the program
  - iii. The method of delivery

Method of delivery includes the following:

- In-class instruction: 100% hours of coursework instruction are delivered in a classroom or other setting, where instructors share the same physical space as students.
- Distance education: 100% hours of coursework instruction, excluding work experience hours, if applicable, are delivered remotely from a BC location.
- Combined delivery: Hours of coursework instruction, excluding work experience hours if any, are provided through a combination of in-class and distance delivery. Program may include a work experience component.
  - Synchronous distance delivery means students attend classes virtually in ‘real time’ with instructors and classmates.
  - Asynchronous distance delivery means that students and instructors do not meet in ‘real time’. There is no live video lecture portion of the program. Students in a program or course that is delivered asynchronously may move through assignments at their own pace, supported by online resources such as recorded lectures, reading material, assignments, and discussion groups.

Hours associated with the work experience are included in the calculation of the total hours of instruction (duration) of a program. However, the hours of the work experience should not be considered when determining the method of delivery of a program.

For all programs that are provided wholly or in part via distance education, the student enrolment contract must disclose:

- Whether the distance education portion of the program is synchronous or asynchronous.
- If more than one type of delivery method is employed, the method of delivery for each course. If a course employs more than one delivery method, the requirements for in-class and synchronous attendance must be clearly outlined.

New standards apply to programs where the method of delivery includes distance education and/or combined delivery. See Section 3.2.7 for more information.

- iv. the order in which courses are provided
- v. the equipment and facilities the institution uses to provide the program<sup>4</sup>

For example, a nursing program may require the following equipment to enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program:

- Hospital beds
- Mannequins

An example of facilities for a nursing program would include practical work areas.

A Learning Objectives Guide is available in Appendix 6 and in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab of the PTIB website at: <https://www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca/form-library>.

- vi. the student intake model

An intake model is either:

- Continuous intake, where students are continuously admitted throughout the program, or
- Intermittent intake, where students are admitted into a program at specific times.

In a continuous intake model, a student may start at any time. This may be appropriate for self-paced learning, distance delivery using asynchronous teaching methods, or for language training.

In an intermittent model, a student may start only at specific points in the program. It is the appropriate model for most programs, including distance delivery using synchronous teaching methods.

Many intermittent intake programs have a single intake point with all students starting together. Some have multiple specific intake points, e.g. at the start of each course, or at the start of each term. Multiple intermittent intake starting points work for programs in which courses or course blocks may be taken in any order.

Note that PTIB's definition of continuous intake differs from the StudentAid BC definition of "continuous entry" (see the StudentAid BC Administration Manual for more information).

- vii. the course outline, which includes:
  - the learning objectives of the course
  - a list of required course materials
  - a description of the method of evaluation used to assess student performance in the course
  - the requirements that a student must meet to complete the course, and
  - the teaching methods used in the course.

viii. the program outline, which includes:

- the title of the program
  - the learning objectives of the program
  - the admission requirements for the program
  - a description of the method of evaluation used to assess a student if there is an evaluation in addition to the one included in a course outline that is part of the program
  - the requirements that a student must meet to complete the program
  - a list of the titles of the courses that are part of the program
  - the number of hours of instruction for each work experience component of the program
  - in respect of career-related programs of instruction, the career occupation for which the program prepares a student.
- e) Whether the course materials are relevant to and adequate for the program and in the language in which the program is provided, or in a language appropriate for the program
- f) Whether the institution has a work experience policy that meets the standards, if the program includes work experience
- g) Whether the institution contracts with another entity to provide a portion of the program
- h) For Class A programs at designated/interim designated, the program evaluation, if any
- i) Any other information or records required by the registrar

The methods of evaluation must be appropriate to enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program.

Course materials include textbooks, e-books, equipment, and uniforms. In instances where program materials are publicly available, students are not required to purchase books, e-resources, supplies or equipment directly from the institution or any other specific source.

Institutions must have ownership or usage rights for the curriculum for as long as the program is delivered.

Institutions must directly deliver at least 50% of the hours of instruction of the program, not including work experience.

Decision

- If the registrar approves the program, the institution will be notified and the program will be added to the Online Directory. For more on the Online Directory, see Section 9.1.
- If approval is denied, the registrar will provide reasons. The institution may submit a new application at any time.

Admission Requirements

What is acceptable?

Admission requirements are those requirements necessary for students to be admitted into a program, including language proficiency requirements. They must be appropriate to enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program. They may differ from the requirements for participating in the work experience component of the program.

An Admission Requirements guide is available in Appendix 7 and in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab of the PTIB website at: <https://www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca/form-library>.

Examples of acceptable admission requirements include:

- Language proficiency to a specified generally accepted standard, such as IELTS (all tests to be accepted, with a minimum score for each, much be specified; 'or equivalent' is not acceptable)
- Prior education such as a provincially recognized high school course
- Current registration, certification or licensure in a field such as a private pilot or registered counsellor
- Assessment through an interview, portfolio review or audition, to a specified standard

The following are not admission requirements:

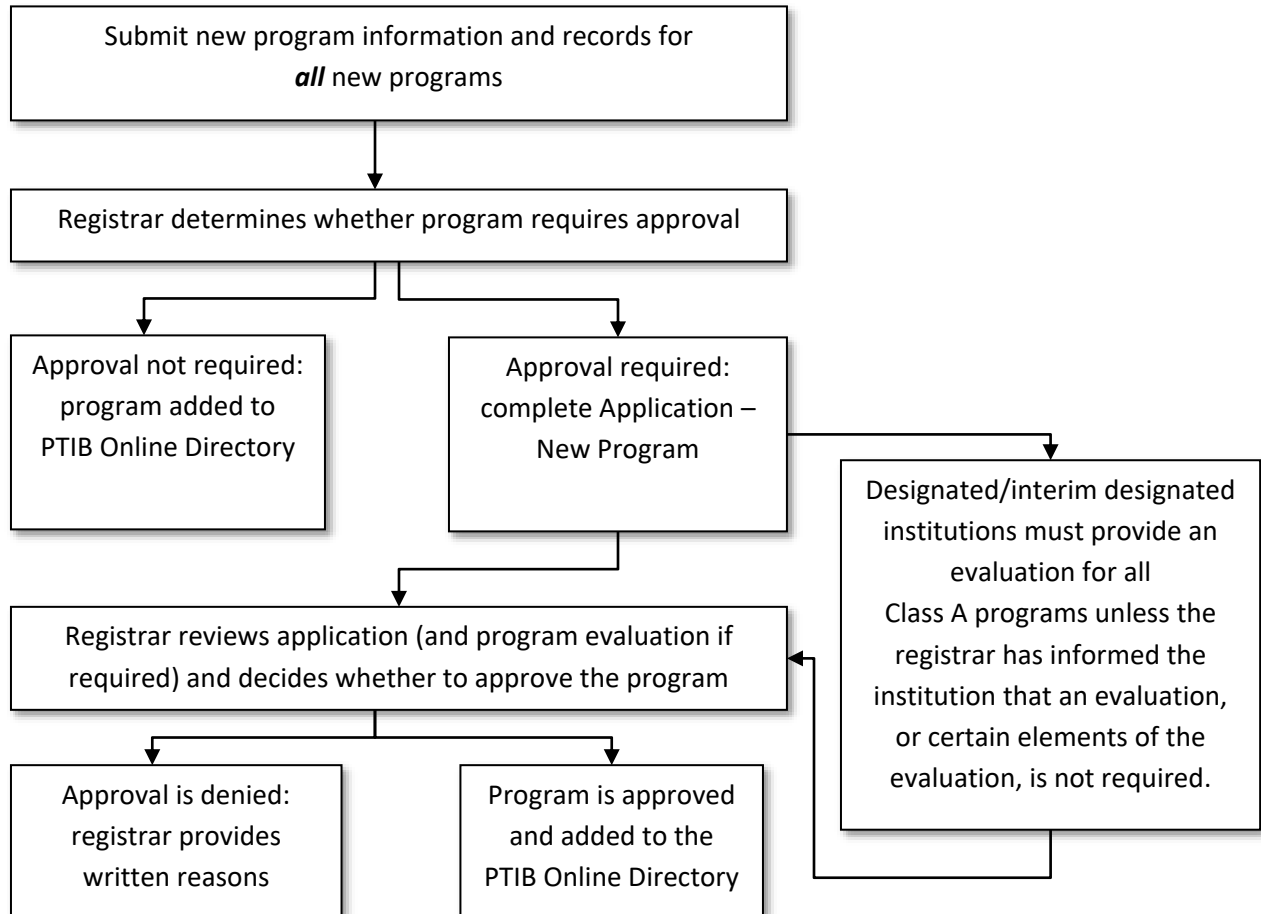

- Completion of an application form
- Payment of an application fee
- Parental signature for minors
- Access to or ownership of specialized equipment

How to assess if admission requirements met?

Institutions are encouraged to use standardized criteria and testing to assess whether prospective students meet admission requirements. For example, an institution may use the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) to assess language proficiency or require evidence the student has completed a provincially recognized high school academic course.

Institutions wishing to develop and use their own testing mechanism to evaluate whether students meet the admission requirements, or provide their own versions of prerequisite courses that students are missing, may be required to demonstrate the appropriateness or adequacy of the testing mechanism or pre-requisite course.

Program Approval - Application Process Overview

Institutions must clearly identify in their publications, including websites, whether a program has been approved by the registrar.

For each Class A or B program, institutions must list the following information on their websites:

- Admission requirements
- Tuition and related fees
- Whether the program leads to an occupation that is regulated
- If the program leads to an occupation that is regulated, a link to the website of the regulator
- The career occupations for which the program is intended to prepare the students.

Note that institutions applying for a designation certificate must meet the following additional requirements:

- Have students enrolled in at least 50% of their approved programs – either currently or at some point in the one-year period that ends on the expiry date included in the institution’s current certificate.
- Effective September 1, 2022, institutions that have held a certificate for the last two years must have provided an approved program in at least one of those years.

We recommend you revise your program offerings in order to meet these requirements. If you no longer offer a program, you must notify PTIB to ensure that we do not take those programs into account when determining whether you meet the requirements.

2.5 New program application fees

Institutions must pay the following fees when submitting a New Program Approval application:

Program class	New program application fee
Class A	$900
Class B	$500
Class C	$500
Approval not required	$150

2.6 Program Eligibility for StudentAid BC

As part of the program approval process, designated institutions can also apply for eligibility with StudentAid BC (SABC) for that program. PTIB forwards information about approved programs directly to SABC, however for the program to be evaluated for SABC eligibility, designated institutions must follow the procedures set out in Chapter 2: Program Eligibility Application Procedure of the StudentAid BC Policy Manual, available at <https://studentaidbc.ca/institution-officials>.

Chapter 3: Maintaining compliance

This section of the manual supports:

- Sections 13-15 of the Private Training Act
- Sections 15-48 and 56-60 of the Private Training Regulation

Certified institutions must, on a continuous basis:

- Meet all the requirements for their certificates, including any condition attached
- Maintain the financial security, if any, required by the registrar (see Chapter 8)
- Comply with all relevant compliance standards (see Section 3.2)
- Offer at least one approved program (see Chapter 2)
- Fulfill all reporting requirements (see Chapter 6)
- Notify the registrar before making certain changes (see Chapter 3)
- Notify the registrar and receive consent before making certain changes (see Chapter 3)
- Maintain compliance with all applicable local, provincial and federal enactments related to operation or administration of the institution
- Pay the applicable fees and payments to the Fund (see Section 7.2)

3.1 Making changes

There are three types of changes:

- changes requiring notification only. Institution may not implement these changes without first notifying the registrar;
- changes requiring notification and PTIB consent before implementation;
- changes that must be reported as soon as practicable following the change.

When providing materials to PTIB, please ensure they can be opened and edited freely.

Do not send materials that are password protected or otherwise secured.

3.1.1 Changes requiring notification only (consent not required)

60-day Notice – Fiscal Year

Institution must notify PTIB in writing at least 60 days before changes to:

- the fiscal year established by an institution ($500 fee).

Changing fiscal year

Certificate expiry and deadlines for reporting are tied to the institution's fiscal year. A change in fiscal year will, therefore, have a significant impact and must be reported in writing at least 60 days before the change.

It also requires prior approval from the Canada Revenue Agency. For more information go to www.cra-arc.gc.ca/

14-day Notice*Institution must notify PTIB in writing at least 14 days before changes to:

- tuition or related fees of an approved program
- an approved program from full time to part time, or part time to full time
- the list of programs offered (program deletions only) ($100 fee for approved programs only)
- the maximum number of students the institution admits to an approved program
- the language of instruction of an approved program
- the number of hours of instruction<sup>5</sup> for each course that is part of an approved program
- information about the institution, including:
  - legal or operating name ($200 fee)
  - address for service

Program change impacting program class

If, following a program change, a Class B program now meets the threshold for a Class A program, the registrar may require the institution to submit a program evaluation.

Full and part time

In relation to an approved program:

- Full time means:
  - Instructional time of 20 hours or more per week, or
  - If the program leads to employment in a career occupation regulated by Transport Canada, the federal regulator, instructional time of 15 hours or more per week.
- Part time means:
  - Instructional time of less than 20 hours per week, or
  - If the program leads to employment in a career occupation regulated by Transport Canada, the federal regulator, instructional time of less than 15 hours per week.

<sup>5</sup> Do not include homework hours when calculating hours of instruction.

7-day Notice – Change of Control

Institution must notify PTIB in writing at least 7 days before any change of control of an institution.

For a company or extraprovincial company, a change of control means a change in the major shareholder (a shareholder holding more than 50% of the voting shares).

For a partnership, a change of control means a change or alteration in the membership of the firm.

Certificates are not transferrable. For a change in ownership, see Section 3.1.7 of this manual.

3.1.2 Changes requiring notification and consent

Institutions must obtain consent before making the following change:

- the location where or from which the program is provided. This applies to all locations, including locations from which the institution only offers programs not requiring approval.

Institution must obtain consent before making any of the following changes to an approved program:

- hours of instruction
- method of delivery (e.g. in-class, distance, or a combination of both)

3.1.3 Changes to report as soon as practicable

Institution must notify PTIB as soon as practicable of the following changes:

- change required by a third party regulator in relation to an approved program that leads to a regulated occupation, that may reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect on students

Action Required by a Regulator

Institutions must provide a copy of any correspondence from a third party regulator that requires an institution to take action that may reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect on students.

Varying reporting requirements apply to specific types of corporate structures:

Institution must notify PTIB as soon as practicable of the following changes:
If the institution is:	It must report changes in:
A company	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• shareholders, holding more than 10% of shares that carry the right to vote at general meetings, other than a change in major shareholder (see Section 3.1.1).</li> </ul>
An extraprovincial company	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• shareholders, holding more than 10% of the shares that carry the right to vote at general meetings, other than a change in major shareholder (see Section 3.1.1).</li> </ul>
A society or extraprovincial society	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• directors as defined in section 1 of the Society Act.</li> </ul>

3.1.4 Fees for changes

Fees for changes are detailed in Section 7.1.

3.1.5 Notification process

All change notifications must be made through the application forms on the Forms, Templates and Resources page of the PTIB website. There are three applicable application forms:

- Application – Program Change
- Application – Add or Close a Location
- Application – Institution and Contact Change

Email the completed application along with all required records to PTI@gov.bc.ca.

Did you know that you can access all program information listed with PTIB for your institution on the portal?

- To view program information, select “view my current programs” on the portal
- You should periodically review program information in your enrolment contracts, your website, and in your advertising to ensure that it is consistent with the information listed with PTIB

For each change planned, institutions may be asked to provide information and describe:

- Any anticipated adverse effects on students
- Steps the institution will take to address these effects

PTIB may request additional information and/or records.

If no consent is required, PTIB will update the Online Directory, if necessary.

Where consent is required, PTIB will:

- Notify the institution whether consent has been granted
- Update the Online Directory, if necessary

It will take a minimum of 12 weeks to process complete applications for changes requiring consent. Incomplete applications will not be processed and will need to be resubmitted by the institution. The registrar will provide reasons if consent is denied.

3.1.6 Ceasing operations at one or more locations

Any institution ceasing operations at one or more certified locations must notify PTIB at least 14 days before surrendering the certificate(s).

If the institution ceases operations at all certified locations, it must transfer records for all students enrolled in approved programs to the registrar within 48 hours.

If at the time the institution surrenders its certificate(s) students have not yet completed their approved programs, they may file claims on the Fund. The institution will be required to reimburse the Fund for any payments made as a result of successful student claims.

If you are considering a complete cessation of operations, please contact PTIB to discuss. Advance notice will help ensure a smooth transition for students affected by the closure.

3.1.7 Change of ownership

There are two types of change of ownership: asset purchase and share purchase. Institutions should contact PTIB to discuss their plans before proceeding with either type of change.

Asset purchase

Certificates are not transferrable or assignable (s. 7(7) of the Private Training Act). Following an asset purchase, a certified institution is required to surrender its certificate(s) and the new owner is required to submit a new application for registration or designation along with any associated fees. Waiting periods for processing vary and may take several months. Once a new certificate is issued, the new institution will be considered a Category 3 (see Chapter 6). Institutions applying for a designation certificate may be issued an interim designation certificate and will not be eligible for access to EQA or SABC.

Share purchase resulting in change of control

The registrar must be notified at least 7 days in advance of any change of control of an institution. There is a fee of $1,000 for a change of control.

For a company or extraprovincial company, a change of control means a change in the major shareholder (a shareholder holding more than 50% of the voting shares). For a partnership, a change of control means a change or alteration in the membership of the firm.

Institutions considering a change in fiscal year must notify the registrar at least 60 days in advance. They are also encouraged to contact PTIB before the change is made to discuss implications.

3.2 Compliance standards

This section of the manual supports Sections 15-48 of the Private Training Regulation.

<https://www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca/form-library>.

3.2.2 Fees and tuition for approved programs

Application and assessment fees

Institutions may not charge more than:

- $250 for a domestic student application fee (a registration fee is considered to be the same as an application fee)
- $1,000 for an international student application fee
- $250 for an assessment fee

Tuition Refund Policy

Institutions may not accept any tuition or related fees until they have provided a copy of the institution's Tuition Refund Policy to the student.

When a refund is due, an institution must provide it to the student within 30 days of:

- Receiving a notice of withdrawal from a student
- Receiving a copy of refusal of a study permit
- Providing a student with a notice of dismissal
- Receiving an order from the registrar to issue a refund because a student was admitted in an approved program without meeting the admission requirements.
- The program end date included in the enrolment contract, if an institution did not provide a work experience to a student within 30 days of the end date.
- The date on which the first 30% of the program would have been completed, if a student did not attend the first 30% of the program.

If a refund is due, the student record must include evidence that the refund was issued.

What is tuition?

Tuition is the total of the fees a student must pay in respect of a program.

Tuition does not include related fees:

- Administrative fees
- Application fees

- Exam fees
- IT services
- Fees for the use of a lab or clinic
- Fees for a mandatory online learning management system

What are administrative fees?

Administrative fees may include:

- Non-sufficient funds (NSF) fees
- Copy of transcript or student record fees

Administrative fees may not include an institution's payment to the Fund.

An institution must refund fees charged for textbooks or other course materials, including equipment and uniforms, if the student does not receive these course materials and any of the following apply:

- The student provides a notice of withdrawal to the institution
- The institution provides a notice of dismissal to the student
- The student does not attend any of the first 30% of the hours of instruction of the program.

Approved Programs – In-class or Combined Delivery	Refund Due

Practicum:

- Consists of no more than 20% of the hours of instruction, and
- Does not provide a payment to the student.

These limits on hours of instruction may only be exceeded if required by a third party regulator.

Institutions offering work experience must:

- Have a written Work Experience Policy that includes:
  - The process by which a student is placed in the work experience
  - The process by which a student is evaluated
  - The intervals at which the work experience will be monitored
  - The requirements for participation in the work experience
  - The number of hours of instruction in the work experience
  - Identification of the work experience as a clinical placement, cooperative placement, practicum or preceptorship
- Provide a copy of the Work Experience Policy to the student before the start date of the program
- Sign an agreement with the host organization and the student that describes:
  - The respective responsibilities of the host organization, the institution and the student
  - The work experience activities the student will undertake

Work Experience guide

A Work Experience guide is available in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab of the PTIB website at:

<https://www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca/form-library>.

Examples of work experience requirements

- Minimum academic achievement level
- Criminal record check
- Medical testing

- Provide a copy of the agreement to the student before the work experience starts
- Ensure that the work experience:
  - Is supervised by someone qualified in a relevant career occupation and employed or retained by the host organization
  - Includes activities directly related to the learning objectives of the program or meets the requirements of a regulatory body for that career occupation
  - Consists of no more than the hours of instruction for a clinical placement, cooperative placement, practicum or preceptorship, as applicable – except where a higher number of hours is required by a regulatory body for that career occupation, such as Transport Canada
  - Includes at least one written evaluation of the student
  - Is provided before the program ends
- Monitor the student during the work experience placement including reviewing whether the student is attending and meeting the learning objectives of the program

Student enrolment contracts must include the following information related to work experience:

- The requirements for participation in the work experience
- An estimate of the costs for a student to complete the work experience, if any
- The geographic area or region of the province where the work experience will be provided
- The date or dates on which the institution plans to provide the work experience
- The number of hours of instruction of the work experience

Work experience

Institutions providing a work experience placement as part of an approved program are required to comply with the following:

- Any fee charged to a student in relation to a work experience component – including a placement fee – is considered tuition and must be listed in the student enrolment contract as tuition.
- Institutions are responsible for finding and securing work experience placements for students if a work experience is a required element of a program. While a student may be encouraged to find their own placement, institutions are ultimately responsible for ensuring an adequate availability of placements.
- Institutions are not expected to accommodate a student who refuses, for no valid reason, a work experience placement that meets PTIB's work experience standards.

If the institution fails to provide the work experience within 30 days of the contract end date, it must refund tuition and related fees, other than application fees, unless the registrar determines that the institution was prevented from providing the work experience by circumstances beyond its control.

3.2.5 Institution’s Website

The institutions’ website must comply with the following:

- Provide accurate and current information.
- Include a link to the PTIB website at www.privateinstitutions.gov.bc.ca.
- Post a copy of its certificate, PTIB Designation Mark, or clearly identify the type of certificate held by the institution.
- Include the institution’s tuition refund policy for approved programs.
- Include the institution’s Sexual Misconduct Policy.
- If an institution offers a Class A or B program on its website, list the following:
  - the admission requirements for the program
  - the amount of tuition and related fees for the program
  - whether the program leads to employment in a career occupation regulated by a regulator
  - if the program leads to an occupation that is regulated, a link to the website of the regulator
  - the career occupation(s) for which the program prepares students.

Designated institutions may link the Designation Mark to the PTIB website to meet this standard.

Program information, including title of the program, tuition and admission requirements, must match what is listed with PTIB.

- Ensure that it does not offer a program that requires approval until the institution has submitted basic program information to PTIB as required under Section 2.3, Step 1
- Must clearly identify whether a program has been approved by the registrar.
For programs that require approval, the following wording is suggested: “This program has been approved by the Private Training Institutions Branch (PTIB) of the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills”.

For programs that do not require approval, the following wording is suggested: “This program does not require approval by the Private Training Institutions Branch (PTIB) of the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills. As such, PTIB did not review this program”.

For language programs that do not require approval, the following wording is suggested: “Students who enroll in a language program which is six months or less in duration or for which tuition is less than $4,000 may not make a claim against the Student Tuition Protection Fund, which is managed by the Private Training Institutions Branch (PTIB) of the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills. Further, this language program may not have been reviewed or approved by PTIB.”

3.2.6 Admission Requirements

The following standards apply:

- Admission requirements are those requirements necessary for students to be admitted into a program.
- Admission requirements, including language proficiency requirements, must be appropriate to enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program. They may differ from the requirements for participating in the work experience component of the program.
- Institutions must not enrol students that do not meet admission requirements for the program.
- Institutions must keep evidence in the student record that the student has met the admission requirements for the program.

The registrar may order the institution to refund tuition and all related fees if a student was enrolled without having met the admission requirements for the program and the student did not misrepresent their knowledge or skills.

Institutions are encouraged to use standardized criteria and testing to assess whether prospective students meet admission requirements. For example, an institution may use the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) to assess language proficiency or require evidence the student has completed a provincially recognized high school academic course.

3.2.7 Program delivery

Institutions must ensure that the equipment and facilities the institution uses to provide all programs, including those that do not require approval, enable students to meet the learning objectives of the programs. This means that the institution must be able to accommodate all students enrolled in programs delivered entirely in-class as well as students enrolled in a combined delivery program who attend specific courses in-class.

In relation to approved programs, institutions must:

- Deliver programs as approved
- Report and/or obtain consent before making certain changes to approved programs
- Apply admission requirements consistently to all applicants
- Ensure that the program title is consistent with the learning objectives of the program
- Ensure that the learning objectives for a program are relevant to and adequate for the career occupation for which the program is intended to prepare students
- Maintain course outlines, a curriculum and a program outline that enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program
- Ensure the methods of evaluation are appropriate to enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program

- Ensure the institution has ownership or usage rights of curriculum for the duration of the program
- Ensure that the following enable students to meet the learning objectives for the program:
  - the number of hours of instruction
  - the number of students enrolled
  - the method of delivery
  - the order in which courses are provided
  - the equipment and facilities the institution uses to provide the program
  - the student intake model (intermittent intakes or continuous admission)
  - teaching methods

Curriculum means a plan that sets out learning activities and how they meet the learning objectives of a program.

For example, a nursing program may require the following equipment to enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program:

- Hospital beds
- Mannequins

An example of facilities for a nursing program would include practical work areas.

A Learning Objectives guide is available in Appendix 6 or in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab of the PTIB website at <https://www.privateinstitutions.gov.bc.ca/form-library>.

- Ensure that students are provided with a copy of the course outline on the first day of a course
- Institutions also must ensure that the course materials provided to students are relevant to and adequate for the program and made available in advance of when they are required. For electronic course materials (e.g., e-books), institutions must ensure students have access to the materials for the full duration of the program.
- For Class A and Class B programs, ensure that course materials are in the language in which the program is provided
- For Class C programs, ensure that the course materials are in a language appropriate to the program
- If the program has 40 or more hours of instruction, ensure that students receive written evaluations regularly, and at least once before 30% of the hours of instruction have been provided
- Provide to students copies of the following prior to the start date of the program:
  - Dispute Resolution Policy
  - Student Dismissal Policy
  - Student Grade Appeal Policy
  - Respectful and Fair Treatment of Students Policy)
  - Sexual Misconduct Policy
  - Student Attendance Policy

These standards apply to all institutions.

- Statement of Student Rights – must be provided to the student together with a copy of the student enrolment contract
- Work Experience Policy (if applicable)
- Provide a copy of the institution’s Tuition Refund Policy before accepting any tuition or related fees (including application fees)
- Ensure the institution directly provides over 50% of the hours of instruction of the program, except as they relate to work experience
- For Class A and Class B programs leading to employment in regulated fields such as health care and transportation, maintain evidence that the requirements of the third party regulator are met

Distance and Combined Delivery Programs

To be compliant with Private Training Regulation 18(2)(c)(iii) “method of delivery must enable students to meet learning objectives of the program”, the PTIB registrar requires the following where the method of delivery of a PTIB approved program includes distance education and/or combined delivery:

- For all programs that are provided wholly or in part via distance education, the student enrolment contract must disclose:
  - i. Whether the distance education portion of the program is synchronous or asynchronous.
  - ii. If more than one type of delivery method is employed, the method of delivery for each course. If a course employs more than one delivery method, the requirements for in-class and synchronous attendance must be clearly outlined.
- Any program with more than 20% of the hours of instruction (not including work experience) delivered via distance education must employ a Learning Management System (LMS)<sup>6</sup>. The system must:
  - i. Be available 24/7 (subject to maintenance requirements).
  - ii. Have technical support available to students at any time during business hours.
  - iii. Have security features to protect personal information.
  - iv. Have a system to verify student identity.
  - v. Have a system to record attendance (for asynchronous delivery, PTIB will accept a record of hours logged into an LMS as a copy of the attendance record).
  - vi. Have a system to ensure integrity of assessments.
  - vii. Make equipment, software, and materials (i.e., books, supplies) – in good working order – available to students prior to the start of the course where they are required.
  - viii. If students are expected to use their own equipment and/or software, they must be provided with clear, written standards for the equipment/software prior to enrolment.
- c. Asynchronous delivery must:
  - i. Have a system that enables the institution to confirm a student’s progress at any time.

<sup>6</sup> A software application for the administration, documentation, tracking, reporting, automation, and delivery of educational courses, training programs, materials or learning and development programs. MS Teams is not an LMS.

- ii. Provide students with scheduled access to qualified instructors.

Implementation: Distance and Combined Delivery Programs

Institutions already approved for distance or combined delivery will have until September 30, 2024<sup>7</sup> to make any necessary changes. PTIB may review information related to any of these standards during an inspection, when an institution applies for re-certification, or in conjunction with an application for a new program or program change to assess an institution's ability to deliver online instruction to students.

The new standards for distance and combined delivery are in place immediately for any new program applications.

New program applications and applications for a change in delivery method currently in PTIB's queue must meet the new standards to be approved. Please do not send in a new or revised application as a result of the new standards. PTIB staff will contact you if revisions are needed.

If, as a result of these changes, you wish to remove distance or combined delivery method options from your approved program, you must submit an Application – Program Change form.

3.2.8 Instructors, Senior Educational Administrator and Student Support

Institutions must have a current organizational chart. Positions referenced in student policies should appear on the organization chart.

Institutions must have adequate staffing and an adequate number of qualified instructors. Each position title must accurately reflect the main job duties.

Instructors

Minimum Instructor Qualifications:

An instructor of a vocational or practical course must have:

- A certificate, diploma or post-secondary degree relevant to the subject matter and two years of full time work experience in a career occupation relevant to the subject matter of the course, or
- 10 years of full time work experience in a career occupation relevant to the subject matter of the course.

An instructor of a language course, other than an Indigenous language course must have:

- A post-secondary degree in language instruction, or
- A certificate or diploma in language instruction and two years of full time work experience teaching a language, or
- 10 years of full time work experience teaching a language, or
- A certificate or diploma in language instruction and a post-secondary degree.

The instructor of an academic course, other than a language course or an Indigenous culture course, must have a relevant post-secondary degree in the subject area.

For programs leading to employment in a regulated career, where the regulator stipulates minimum instructor qualifications, the minimum instructor qualifications do not apply. Instead, instructors – including substitute instructors – must meet the standards set by the regulator.

Institutions may use substitute instructors who do not meet the minimum instructor qualifications – as long as they provide no more than 10% of the instruction hours for the program.

Instructor records

Institutions must keep a record for each instructor that includes evidence the instructor meets the required qualifications. At designated/interim designated institutions, the instructor record must also include a copy of each performance evaluation. The institution must keep instructor records for two years after an instructor leaves the institution.

Instructor performance evaluations

All instructors of approved programs at designated/interim designated institutions must have a written performance evaluation at least once every two years, conducted by the Senior Educational Administrator or an appropriately qualified delegate.

Senior Educational Administrator (SEA)

Designated/interim designated institutions must have a SEA who holds a degree, diploma, certificate or comparable education or work experience in adult education:

- Comparable education includes a credential in adult education, education related to learning theory, curriculum development, delivery of instruction or instructional strategies, evaluation of learning or technology/media enhanced learning.
- Comparable work experience must include at least two years of full time experience in the delivery of adult education instruction, development of curriculum and evaluation of learning.
- For an institution solely offering flight training programs, Flight Instructor Certification is acceptable for purposes of being an SEA .
- For an institution solely offering language programs, TESOL or Certificate in English Language Teaching to Adults is acceptable for purposes of being an SEA.

The SEA is responsible for:

- Ensuring that the course outline\(s\), curriculum and program outline of an approved program are relevant to the learning objectives of the program, and
- Overseeing a performance evaluation process for instructors

SEA records

Institutions must keep a record for its SEA that includes evidence the SEA meets the required qualifications. The institution must keep SEA records for two years after an SEA leaves the institution.

Student support

Designated/interim designated institutions must designate a staff member whose responsibility it is to provide students with information relating to the following:

- Student enrolment contract
- Program outline for each approved program
- Housing and transportation services for students
- Medical insurance, the Pharmacare program and similar government health care programs for students
- Child care services available to students
- Community and cultural services available to students, such as family support, addiction treatment and services for immigrants
- Available academic support, such as tutoring services, literacy support and library services
- Employment resources for students, including resources in relation to preparing a resume

3.2.9 Student enrolment contract

Institutions are required to sign a written contract with each student they enrol, on or before the program start date, unless the program is employer provided (meaning all students enrolled are funded by a single employer or third party). This applies to approved programs and programs not requiring approval.

The student enrolment contract must set out accurate information about the program. The institution must provide the student a copy of the signed enrolment contract as soon as practicable.

As part of the student enrollment contract, institutions must provide an itemized list of services and/or resources included in a program's course material fees, assessment fees, administrative fees, and other fees. For example, institutions must list the individual costs of each textbook, individual course materials, assessment fees, administrative fees, and other fees.

A student is considered enrolled at the point at which they sign a contract or pay tuition to an institution.

Contracts for approved programs must:

- Be written in a clear and comprehensible manner in not less than 10 point type
- Be for a term no longer than 18 months. If the program is longer than 18 months, a subsequent student enrolment contract can only be signed after 30% of the program's hours of instruction listed in the original contract have been provided.
- Include all required information (see Appendix 11)

The contract must be dated and signed by:

- The student or, if the student is under the age of 19, by a parent or legal guardian
- An individual who has legal authority to act on behalf of the institution

Contracts for programs that do not require approval must include:

- The start date of the program
- The amount of tuition and related fees for the program
- The refund policy. If there is no refund, the contract should make that clear.
- The following statement: "This program does not require approval by the Private Training Institutions Branch (PTIB) of the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills. As such, PTIB did not review this program. Students may not file a claim against the Student Tuition Protection Fund in relation to this program."

Fees and tuition refund for programs that do not require approval

An institution must refund all of the tuition and related fees, other than application fees, for a program that has tuition of $4,000 or more and does not require approval if:

- The student does not attend the program, and
- The institution receives from the student a notice of withdrawal or a copy of refusal of a study permit no later than 30 days after the later of:
  - a) the start date of the program in the most recent letter of acceptance
  - b) the start date of the program in the enrolment contract

The institution must refund the student within 30 days of receiving a notice of withdrawal or a copy of refusal of a study permit, as applicable.

3.2.10 Student records

Institutions must keep an accurate and current record for each student enrolled in an approved program. The student record must include all the information listed in Appendix 12. A copy must be provided to the student, when requested, at a reasonable cost.

For Class A programs, institutions must retain student records for at least eight years after the following date, whichever is applicable:

- The date the student completes the program
- The date the institution delivers to the student a notice of dismissal
- The date the institution receives a notice of withdrawal

Designated/interim designated institutions must retain student records for Class B and Class C programs for at least three years after the following date, whichever is applicable:

- The date the student completes the program
- The date the institution delivers to the student a notice of dismissal
- The date the institution receives a notice of withdrawal

Record storage at the institution

Student records kept electronically must be:

- In a format that provides for copies of the student record to be made
- Backed up at least once a month
- Stored in a secure manner
- In a format that is not created using proprietary software
- Accessible, on request, by the registrar

Paper records must be stored securely in a location that is accessible, on request, by the registrar.

Archiving student records

Institutions offering Class A programs, other than programs that lead to employment in a career occupation regulated by Transport Canada, the federal regulator, must:

Enter into an agreement with Cube Global or Datawitness (the approved archiving vendors) which stipulates that:

- Student records must be archived in a secure manner for 25 years from the date the record is provided to the third party, and
- The registrar must have access to the records on request.

Provide the archived student record to the approved archiving vendor within 60 days of:

- The end date of the student enrolment contract, or
- The date the institution receives a notice of withdrawal, or
- The date the institution delivers to the student a notice of dismissal.

The archived record must be labeled by student name and personal education number, if any, and must include:

- A copy of the signed student enrolment contract,
- Any transcripts issued to the student by the institution, and

- A copy of any credential granted to the student by the institution.

Institutions should not archive records containing sensitive personal information such as unmasked credit card numbers (including the 3 to 4 digit security code found on the back of a credit card), social insurance numbers, bank account numbers, driver's licence numbers, permanent resident card numbers, or whether the student is receiving provincial income assistance. Scanned images showing a cheque, or any ID documentation should not be archived.

3.2.11 Prior learning assessment

Prior learning assessment is a process to determine if prior education or experience is equivalent to part of a program. Institutions that have such a process must ensure it is applied consistently to all students.

Prior learning must not be assessed as equivalent to more than 50% of the hours of instruction of a program unless:

- It is related to a program leading to an occupation that is regulated and the regulator provides that prior learning may be assessed as equivalent to more than 50% of the hours of instruction, or
- If an institution ceases to hold a certificate before a student can complete their approved program and another institution is appointed by the registrar to provide a comparable program.

3.2.12 Credentials

As soon as practicable after a student meets the requirements of an approved program, an institution must grant:

- For a Class A program, a certificate or diploma that confirms the completion of a career training program
- For a Class B or Class C program, a credential other than a career training credential

3.2.13 Program Advisory Committee (PAC)

Designated/interim designated institutions must establish PACs to ensure Class A programs reflect current practice in the relevant career occupation(s). These PACs, which can be established for a single program or a group of programs, must consist of individuals who:

- Have experience working in relevant career occupations, and
- Are not related to the institution. This means the institution cannot directly or indirectly control or influence the person, and the person cannot control or influence the institution.

Each PAC must also include an institution staff member who serves as secretary.

PACs must meet on a regular basis – at least once every two years – and the institution must keep written records of PAC meetings for at least four years.

Note: This does not apply to programs leading to employment in a career occupation regulated by Transport Canada.

Chapter 4: Inspections and enforcement

This chapter of the manual supports:

- Sections 28-46 of the Private Training Act
- Section 63 of the Private Training Regulation
- Section 11 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation

4.1 Appointment of inspectors

The Private Training Act (PTA) allows inspections of all institutions, regardless of whether they are certified. Inspectors appointed by the registrar are authorized to inspect business premises during business hours without a warrant. On request, the inspector must present evidence of appointment.

Inspectors have the authority to:

- Observe the delivery of programs to students
- Interview students and staff
- Remove from the premises and retain a record or any other thing that may be required as evidence
- Question a person

The inspector will issue a receipt if any thing is removed from the premises.

4.2 Types of inspections

Inspections are conducted for the following purposes:

- Assessing new applications for registration or designation certificates
- Assessing whether an institution requires a certificate
- Determining compliance with the PTA and regulations, or with SABC or EQA requirements, including determining whether the certificate held by the institution should be suspended or cancelled
- Conducting new location or new site-specific program applications

The table below provides further information on the types of inspections and fees for each.

The registrar will normally determine whether an inspection is required during a certificate term at the time the certificate is issued.

1. Pre-certification (initial application)	Description and fees
Inspection conducted prior to the issuance of initial certificate.	Conducted by ministry staff and/or subject matter experts (SMEs) appointed as inspectors by the registrar Fees are included in the application fee
2. Designation Review	Description and fees
Designation Review conducted within one year of the registrar issuing a designation certificate for the first time	Conducted by ministry staff and/or SMEs appointed as inspectors by the registrar Fees: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• $1,500 per inspection, plus</li> <li>• $1,750 per inspector for the first day</li> <li>• $700 per inspector for each subsequent day</li> </ul>
Subsequent Designation Reviews are conducted at least every seven years
3. Compliance	Description and fees
May be conducted at any time, usually for one or more of the following reasons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The institution has a category 3 assignment (see Chapter 6 for details)</li> <li>• The institution has been certified for less than one year</li> <li>• The registrar has identified a possible compliance issue concerning the PTA, the regulations or SABC or EQA requirements</li> <li>• A follow-up visit is required to assess whether a compliance issue has been resolved</li> <li>• The institution is not certified and may be offering Class A programs.</li> </ul>	Conducted by ministry staff and/or SMEs appointed as inspectors by the registrar Fees are charged for follow-up inspections only as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• $100/hour for ministry staff</li> <li>• $200/hour for SME</li> <li>• $300/hour for a consultant with expertise in accounting</li> </ul>

4.3 Process for inspections

Institutions must, within 24 hours of receiving notice of an inspection from PTIB, post a notice in a prominent place at the location where the inspection is to be conducted to provide students with the following information:

- Date and time of the inspection
- Location of the inspection
- The web address of PTIB

4.3.1 Pre-certification inspection

Institutions applying for certification for the first time are inspected as part of the application process. The registrar will generally notify the institution of the date and time for the inspection.

4.3.2 Designation Review

The registrar will conduct a Designation Review:

- Within one year of initial designation
- Within seven years of the most recent Designation Review

Prior to the inspection, institutions will be required to submit a Designation Review Report. Institutions undergoing a Designation Review will be contacted directly by PTIB to schedule an orientation meeting to discuss the Designation Review Report, process, and timelines.

The registrar will provide an estimate of fees for the inspection, based on the number and types of programs the institution offers. A date and time for the inspection will then be scheduled.

The institution will receive a copy of the inspection report and will be given an opportunity to respond.

4.3.3 Compliance inspection

Typically, the registrar provides notice for compliance inspections. However, the PTA provides authority to inspect an institution at any time, without advance notice.

The institution will receive a copy of the inspection report and will be given an opportunity to respond.

Fees may be charged for certain compliance inspections. See Section 7.1 for more information.

4.4 Enforcement

One of the key principles behind the PTA is progressive enforcement – providing for a range of enforcement actions when institutions contravene the PTA or regulations.

Typically, institutions are notified when the registrar identifies a possible contravention.

The registrar may use one or more of the following enforcement tools. As shown in the table below, each of these tools has progressively more serious implications for institution.

Tool	Implications for Institutions
Compliance order	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The institution must address any contraventions of the PTA or regulations identified in the compliance order by the specified deadline</li> <li>• Compliance orders are taken into consideration when determining an institution’s category assignment.</li> <li>• Compliance orders may be published in the Online Directory</li> </ul>
Order to refund tuition and all related fees	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The institution must refund students as ordered by the registrar if:               <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>○ The institution enrolled a student who did not meet admission requirements; or</li> <li>○ The institution did not provide work experience within the required timeline (30 days from contract end date)</li> </ul> </li> <li>• Refund orders may be published in the Online Directory</li> </ul>
Administrative penalty	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The institution must pay a specific amount for having contravened the PTA or regulations. For more information, see Appendix 13.</li> <li>• Where contraventions persist, additional penalty amounts may apply</li> <li>• Administrative penalties are taken into consideration when determining an institution’s category assignment.</li> <li>• Administrative penalties will be published in the Online Directory for at least two years</li> </ul>
Certificate suspension	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The institution must not advertise, contract with or enrol new students at any location for which a certificate is suspended until the suspension is lifted. Current students may continue their studies.</li> <li>• The institution is automatically assigned to Category 3, which may increase fees and payments to the Fund</li> <li>• Suspension information will be published in the Online Directory for at least two years</li> </ul>
Certificate cancellation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The institution must immediately stop providing or offering to provide any Class A programs at the location for which the certificate has been cancelled</li> <li>• The institution may not apply for a certificate for at least one year</li> <li>• Cancellation information will be published in the Online Directory for at least two years</li> </ul>

Chapter 5: Re-certification

This chapter of the manual supports:

- Sections 4-10 of the Private Training Act
- Sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of the Private Training Regulation
- Section 4 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation

Institutions wishing to continue to operate must apply for re-certification annually at least 60 days before the expiry date on the institution's certificate.

At re-certification the registrar will:

- Assess whether the institution is meeting the requirements for a certificate
- Assign the institution to a category
- Determine whether security is required
- Determine the amount of payments to the Fund and fees payable
- Determine whether inspections will be required in the upcoming certificate term

Institutions will receive a notice in advance of their certificate expiry date, reminding them of the date to apply for re-certification and the requirements.

5.1 Certificate expiry

Certificates generally expire seven months after the end of the institution's fiscal year. Institutions must apply for re-certification annually at least 60 days before the expiry date included in the institution's certificate.

For example, for a fiscal year ending December 31, 2022:

- The certificate will expire on July 31, 2023
- The application for re-certification is due by May 31, 2023.

For a detailed explanation, see the Example Re-certification Timeline in Section 5.2.2.

Re-certification is not automatic.

Institutions must apply for re-certification. Otherwise, their current certificate will expire.

5.2 Applying for Re-certification

5.2.1 Application process

Application – 60 days before the current certificate expiry date.

Submit an application for re-certification through the PTIB Portal. Select ‘Apply for Re-certification’ in the Certification section.

Update or confirm information in the Institution and Contacts sections of the form.

Pay any outstanding fees or payments to the Fund.

For a list of the information and records required with the application, see Appendix 14.

Student data reporting – 60 days before the current certificate expiry date

Log on to the PTIB Portal and select ‘View or update student data’ in the Tools section or select the Student Data tab and download the student data report. Only PTIB Portal users with administrator permissions can view the Student Data section of the PTIB Portal. Basic users do not have access.

Complete the report to provide the required information for each student who was enrolled in or completed an approved program during the previous fiscal year, then return to the PTIB Portal to upload and submit the student data report. The information required is listed in Appendix 15.

Refer to PTIB’s Student Data Report Reference Guide available on the Forms, Templates and Resources page of the PTIB website for more information about completing the report.

Financial reporting – five months after the institution fiscal year end

Submit financial statements for the previous fiscal year via the PTIB Portal. Click on the Document Upload tab under Document Type, select Financial Statements, then select the file to upload and submit. See Section 5.5 below for details regarding reporting requirements for financial statements.

5.2.2 Application process

The registrar will assess the application and determine:

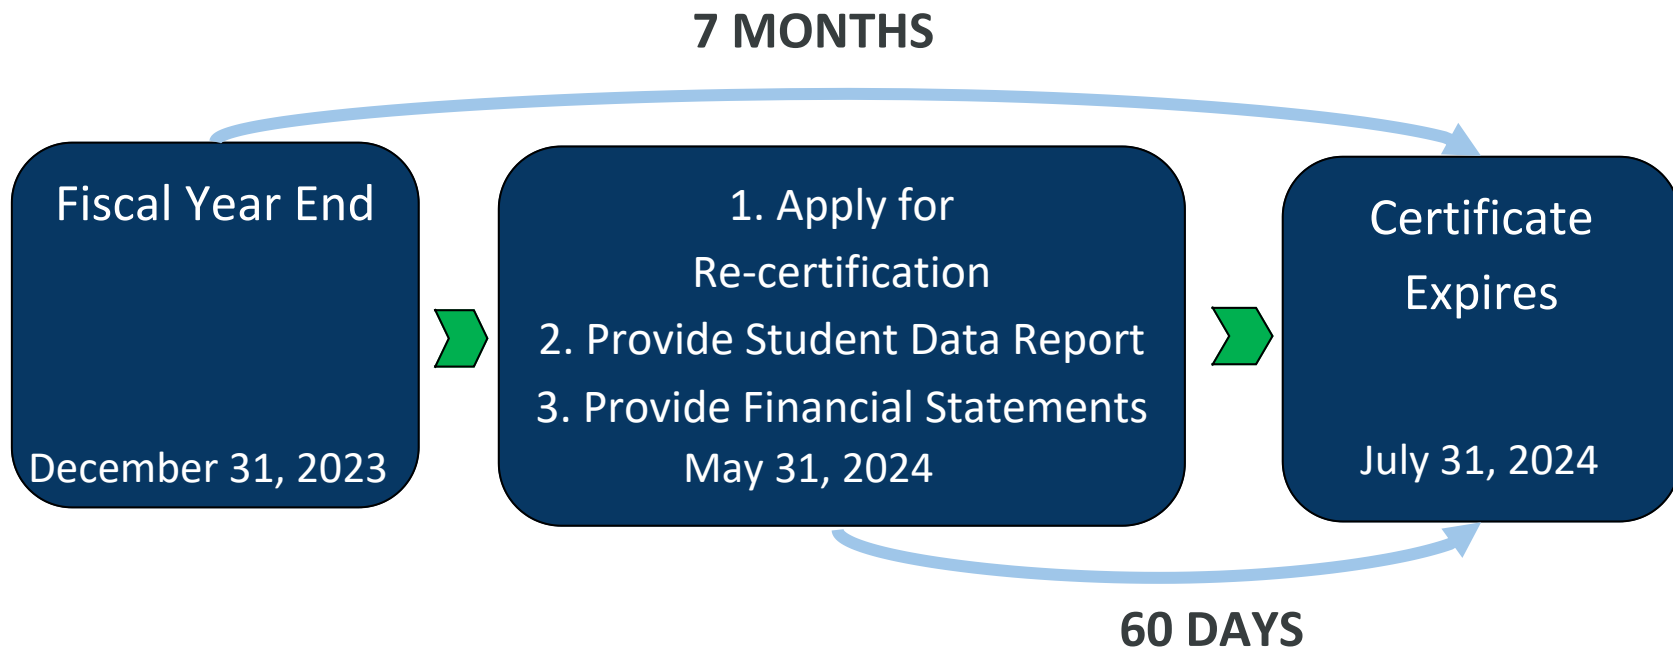

- Whether the institution meets the requirements for a certificate, and if so, what type of certificate
- Whether financial security is required, and if so, the amount
- The institution’s category assignment

See Section 1.3 for the full list of requirements for a certificate.

Applying for Re-certification of a Designation Certificate?

Designated institutions must have students enrolled in at least 50% of their approved programs – either currently or at some point in the one-year period that ends on the expiry date included in the institution’s current certificate.

Example Re-certification Timeline

5.3 Receiving a certificate, invoice and Designation Mark

Certificate

Once an institution has met the requirements, including provision of security (if required), the registrar will issue a certificate for each institution location.

The certificate must be printed and prominently displayed at each location for which a certificate is issued. Certificates must remain posted until they expire, or are surrendered or cancelled.

Invoice

Along with the certificate(s), the institution will receive an invoice for:

- Flat rate fees
- Graduated fees
- Payments to the Fund

For more on fees and payments to the Fund, see Chapter 7.

Designation Marks (designated institutions only)

The B.C. PTIB Designation Certification Mark (“the Marks”) is available to designated institutions. Only designated institutions may use the Marks; there is no corresponding mark for registered or interim designated institutions. PTIB will legally enforce proper use of the Marks.

When using the Marks, the institution must provide “Notice of Licence” (Section 8 of the Designation Certification Marks Terms of Use Agreement). This means the Marks must be accompanied by the following statement: “DESIGNATED B.C. PRIVATE TRAINING INSTITUTIONS BRANCH & Shield Design mark is a certification mark owned by the Government of British Columbia and used under licence.”

Designated institutions that want to use the Mark must sign and return the Designation Certification Marks Terms of Use Agreement, included in this manual at Appendix 20 and available in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab at www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca. Completed Terms of Use Agreements should be sent to PTI@gov.bc.ca.

PTIB will then email the Marks files to the institution.

The Marks may not be used before the signed Terms of Use Agreement is in place.

5.4 EQA and StudentAid BC designations

Designated institutions can apply for Education Quality Assurance (EQA) and StudentAid BC (SABC) designations. Institutions must meet additional requirements for EQA and SABC designations and applications will be assessed by EQA and SABC program staff.

- EQA is the British Columbia brand for quality post-secondary education. It is also a requirement for inclusion on the federal list of Designated Learning Institutions to host international students on study permits. For more on EQA, go to <http://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/education-training/post-secondary-education/institution-resources-administration/education-quality-assurance>. For more on the federal Designated Learning Institutions list, go to www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/study-institutions-list.asp.
- SABC designation allows institutions to enrol students who want to apply for financial assistance through StudentAid BC. For more information, go to www.studentaidBC.ca/institution-officials.

Planning to enrol international students?

International students who want to enrol in a program longer than six months require study permits from the Federal Government under the International Student Program. For more information on study permits, go to www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/study.asp.

Note: Only designated institutions that also hold EQA designation may enrol international students on study permits. First time applicants will not be issued a designation certificate. One of the requirements for a designation certificate is to have held a certificate for one year.

The Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills announced on January 29, 2024 that the Province of British Columbia is implementing a two-year moratorium, until February 2026, on new EQA designations, effective immediately. New institutions will not have access to the federal Designated Learning Institutions list to recruit international students until the moratorium ends. Current institutions may renew their EQA designation during this period.

5.5 Reporting requirements – financial statements

Institutions are notified of financial reporting requirements when the certificate is issued. Financial statements for the previous fiscal year are due no later than five months after fiscal year end.

Reporting requirements are based on tuition from approved programs earned in the previous fiscal year and the category assigned to the institution. For more on reporting requirements, see Appendix 16

The types of financial reporting are:

- Audited Financial Statement
- Review Engagement Report
- Notice to Reader (Compilation Engagement)

Preparation of financial statements

All financial statements must be prepared by a Chartered Professional Accountant (CPA) in good standing with the appropriate license from the Chartered Professional Accountants of BC.

5.6 Delays due to missing information

If an institution submits an application for re-certification 60 days before the expiry date on its current certificate, but does not provide student data and financial statements by the required due date:

The current certificate will remain valid until the registrar issues a new certificate or the institution receives the registrar's decision refusing to issue a certificate. However, should the registrar issue a certificate after the expiry date of the current certificate, fees and payments to the Student Tuition Protection Fund will only be payable as a lump sum. The institution will not have the option of monthly payments.

5.7 Failure to apply for re-certification by deadline

If an institution does not apply for re-certification at least 60 days before the expiry date on its current certificate, the institution may still apply for re-certification. However, it may not be possible to process the application before the current certificate expires, in which case the certificate will expire.

Chapter 6: Category assignment

This chapter of the manual supports Sections 30-45 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation.

All institutions are assigned to a category 1, 2 or 3 which is a factor in determining:

- Graduated fees
- Payments to the Fund
- Frequency of compliance inspections
- Type of financial reporting requirements
- Whether security is required

As described below, category assignment may be automatic or may involve assessment against a list of criteria.

6.1 Automatic category assignment

Some institutions, including those seeking certification for the first time, will be assigned automatically to a category, as shown in the table below.

Description of institution	Automatic category assignment
The institution has continuously held a certificate for less than two years	Category 3
The registrar has suspended any of the certificates issued to the institution within the past two years	Category 3
The institution is in the Indigenous institution class (operated by a First Nation and/or Indigenous society/corporation)	Category 1

6.2 Category assessment

For institutions not automatically assigned to a category, the registrar will conduct an assessment:

When	Why	Assessment Criteria
After the registrar issues a certificate	A factor in determining graduated fees, payments to the Fund, frequency of compliance inspections and type of reporting requirements	Criteria 1-10 in Section 6.2.1 below will be used for institutions issued a registration or interim designation certificate Criteria 1-12 in Section 6.2.1 below will be used for institutions issued a designation certificate

6.2.1 Assessment criteria

Category ratings are based on the criteria shown in the table below. For the calculations for each criterion, see Appendix 17.

Assessment Criteria	Category 1	Category 2	Category 3
Criteria for all institutions:
1. Student withdrawal <sup>1</sup>	Less than 3%	3% to 13%	More than 13%

Additional criteria for institutions applying for or holding a designation certificate:
11. StudentAid BC support <sup>2</sup>	40% or less	41% to 60%	More than 60%
12. International student enrolment <sup>1</sup>	Less than 50%	50% to 70%	70% or more

<sup>1</sup> Financial information for this criterion will be taken from the most recent financial statement provided by the institution.

6.2.2 Determining category assignment

The tables below show how the assessment criteria are used to determine the category assignment for an institution.

For institutions:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• applying for a registration certificate, or</li> <li>• holding a registration or interim designation certificate</li> </ul>
Assessment criteria	Category assignment
If the institution has seven or more Category 1 criteria ratings	Category 1
If the institution has five or six Category 1 criteria ratings	Category 2
If the institution has four or less Category 1 criteria ratings	Category 3

Institutions holding or applying for a designation certificate
Assessment criteria	Category assignment
If the institution has eight or more Category 1 criteria ratings	Category 1
If the institution has six or seven Category 1 criteria ratings	Category 2
If the institution has five or less Category 1 criteria ratings	Category 3

Chapter 7: Fees and payments to the Fund

This chapter of the manual supports:

- Sections 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, 21, 22, 47, 50, 54 and 64 of the Private Training Act
- Sections 3-13 and 15-26 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation

All institutions pay:

- Transaction fees, which are charged on a per-service basis
- Certificate term fees and payments, which are charged in relation to the certificate held by an institution

Certificate term fees and payments consist of:

- Flat rate fees
- Graduated fees
- Payments to the Fund

Institutions are invoiced for flat rate fees, graduated fees and payments to the Fund when the registrar issues the certificate.

PTIB operates on a cost-recovery model.

As described in the sections below, certificate term fees and payments are based on factors such as annual tuition revenue, certification status, years certified and category assignment.

Definition: Annual tuition revenue

Annual tuition revenue is defined as the total tuition earned in respect of approved programs during the previous fiscal year. This amount is included in an institution's financial statements.

For first time applicants, the annual tuition revenue is the institution's estimate of what it will earn in respect of approved programs in the institution's current fiscal. This amount is included in the institution's business plan.

7.2 Certificate term fees and payments

Certificate term fees and payments consist of:

- Flat rate fees
- Graduated fees
- Payments to the Fund

7.2.1 Flat rate fees

Institutions applying for a certificate for the first time pay a flat rate fee of $108.34 per month for the term of their certificate. All fees must be paid in Canadian dollars.

Flat rate fees are based on annual tuition revenue, as shown in the table below.

Flat Rate Fees

Annual Tuition Revenue	Flat Rate Fees (per month of the certificate term)
Less than $25,000	$108.34
$25,000 to $49,999	$108.34
$50,000 to $99,999	$173.23
$100,000 to $349,999	$259.89
$350,000 to $699,999	$411.55

$5,000,000 to $7,499,999	$1,397.50
$7,500,000 to $10,000,000	$1,690.00
Greater than $10,000,000	$2,058.34

7.2.2 Graduated fees and payments to the Fund

Graduated fees and payments to the Fund are based on the following factors:

- The category assigned to the institution
- Number of years certified
- Type of certificate
- Annual tuition revenue
- Class of institution, if applicable

For certificates with a term of more or less than 12 months, fees and payments to the Fund are pro-rated.

Classes of institutions

As set out above, institutions may be assigned to one of four classes:

- Regulatory body institution class: institutions at which the only approved programs the institution provides or intends to provide are approved programs leading to careers regulated by Transport Canada or provincial health regulatory bodies.
- Language institution class: institutions at which the only approved programs the institution provides or intends to provide are:
  - Language programs assessed by, and meeting the standards of, a language assessment body independent of the institution
  - Class A or Class B programs that lead to employment in language instruction
- Indigenous institution class: institutions operated by a First Nation and/or society/corporation.

In order to be assigned to a class, an institution must provide evidence that they meet the requirements for the class. For example, a language institution must provide a copy of the assessment of standards conducted by an independent body.

Graduated Fees and Payments to the Fund – Other than Indigenous institution class

Institution Description	Period of Continuous Certification or Registration	Category Assignment	Percentage of annual tuition revenue payable to
			Graduated Fees	Fund
All institutions, except those in the regulatory body institution class or language institution class	less than 2 years	Category 3 (automatic)	1.352%	0.8%
	2 years or more	Category 3	1.352%	0.8%
Registered institutions, except those in the regulatory body institution class or language institution class	2 or more years but fewer than 5 years	Category 1	0.71%	0.525%
		Category 2	0.819%	0.563%
	5 or more years but fewer than 11 years	Category 1	0.585% 0.	0.35%
		Category 2	0.675	0.375%
	11 or more years	Category 1	0.52%	0.333%
		Category 2	0.60%	0.356%
Designated/interim designated institutions, except those in the regulatory body institution class or language institution class	2 or more years but fewer than 5 years	Category 1	0.385%	0.315%
		Category 2	0.444%	0.338%
	5 or more years but fewer than 11 years	Category 1	0.325%	0.28%
		Category 2	0.375%	0.3%

	2 years or more	Category 1	0.26%	0.245%
		Category 2	0.3%	0.263%
		Category 3	1.352%	0.8%

Graduated Fees and Payments to the Fund – Indigenous institution class

Institution Class	Period of Continuous Certification or Registration	Category Assignment	Graduated Fees (% of annual tuition revenue)	Payments to the Fund
Indigenous institution class <sup>3</sup>	n/a	Category 1 (automatic)	0.2%	$10.00

7.2.3 Reduced payments to the Fund

Debt ratio and current ratio are key measures of financial stability, so institutions with ratios below certain levels make lower payments to the Fund, as shown in the table below.

These discounts are not cumulative and do not apply to institutions assigned to Category 3, or those in the Indigenous institution class.

Thresholds	Discount on the payment due to the Fund
Debt ratio less than 0.2	2.5%
Debt ratio less than 0.2, and Three-year average current ratio of 1.2 or more	5%

<sup>3</sup> Institutions in the Indigenous institutions class are assigned the lowest graduated fee rate, and pay a flat fee payment of $10 to the Fund instead of having this calculated as a percentage of tuition revenue.

7.3 When and how to pay fees and payments

Type of payment	Form	When	How
Flat rate fees Graduated fees Payments to the Fund	For a certificate with a term of less than six months, or a certificate issued after the expiry date included in the previous certificate, payment must be in a lump sum  Otherwise, institutions may choose between a lump sum and monthly payments	Lump sum is payable within 30 days of receiving an invoice  Monthly payments paid by pre-authorized payment (PAD) over the term of the certificate*	Lump sum may be paid by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Cheque, payable to the Minister of Finance</li> <li>• Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT)</li> <li>• Credit card via the PTIB Portal –</li> </ul>

Chapter 8: Financial security

This chapter supports:

- Section 7 of the Private Training Act
- Section 14 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation

The registrar may require institutions to provide security – a financial instrument guaranteeing payment if the institution cannot or will not reimburse amounts paid from the Fund. This determination is made after an institution applies for certification or re-certification.

8.1 Determining whether security is required

To determine whether an institution is required to provide security, the registrar will consider:

- Whether the institution’s certificate has been suspended in the past two years
- How long the institution has been certified
- The institution’s category rating for each criterion
- If the institution does not hold a certificate, the institution’s balance sheet
- Whether the institution has had a change in control within the past year
- Whether the institution is in the Indigenous institution class
- The institution’s financial statements for the 3 previous fiscal years
- Other information available to the registrar that the registrar considers relevant

For institutions not automatically assigned to a category, the registrar will conduct an assessment after an institution submits an application for re-certification. For more information, see Chapter 6: Category Assignment.

8.2 Determining the amount of security

The maximum amount of security required will be $100,000. Generally, the registrar will apply the following principles when determining the amount of security:

Application for certification	Amount of Security
First time application	At least $25,000
Re-application	The greater of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• $25,000 or</li> <li>• 25% of unearned tuition revenue from approved programs in the previous fiscal year to a maximum of $100,000</li> </ul>

8.3 Acceptable types of security

Two types of security are accepted, as shown in the table below.

Type of security	Conditions
An irrevocable letter of credit (ILOC) issued by a savings institution (which generally means a bank or a credit union). The financial institution must have an office in Canada.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Must be made out to the Trustee of the Student Tuition Protection Fund under the Private Training Act, S.B.C.2015, c.5</li> <li>• Must include an automatic renewal clause</li> <li>• The savings institution must agree that the beneficiary is permitted to make partial drawings from the ILOC</li> <li>• Must be for a term of at least 12 months</li> </ul>	Both bonds and ILOCs must include: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The legal name and location(s) of the institution</li> <li>2. The amount of the financial security</li> <li>3. The end/expiry date of the security</li> </ol> For templates, see:
A surety bond, issued by a business authorized under the Financial Institutions Act to carry on insurance business.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Must be made out to the Trustee of the Student Tuition Protection Fund</li> <li>• Must be for a term of at least 15 months after the expiry date of the certificate held by the institution</li> <li>• Must include a notice of cancellation provision of 30 days or more</li> <li>• The issuer must agree that the beneficiary is permitted to make partial drawings from the surety bond</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Appendix 18: Irrevocable Letter of Credit Template</li> <li>• Appendix 19: Surety Bond Template</li> </ul>

8.4 Reimbursing amounts paid from the Fund

The security may be realized up to the amount paid from the Fund. The institution is liable for reimbursing any amount paid from the Fund.

Chapter 9: Claims against the Fund

This chapter of the manual supports:

- Sections 17, 18, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27 of the Private Training Act
- Sections 61 and 62 of the Private Training Regulation
- 15-26 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation

A student may file a claim against the Fund on the following grounds:

- The institution misled the student regarding a significant aspect of an approved program; or
- The institution ceases to hold a certificate before a student can complete their approved program.

Students may be refunded up to the total tuition paid.

Tuition is defined as the total fees the student, or someone on behalf of a student, pays to the institution for a program, not including:

- Administrative, application or assessment fees
- Fees for textbooks or other course material, including equipment or uniforms

The Student Tuition Protection Fund

The Fund consists of payments made by certified private training institutions, and is managed by the BC Investment Management Corporation. The Fund is a trust fund established under the PTA to protect student tuition in the event that an institution misled a student regarding a significant aspect or an approved program, or the institution ceases to hold a certificate before a student a complete their approved program. Financial statements for the Fund are posted on the PTIB website.

The Trustee

Claims are adjudicated by the trustee, who was appointed by the Minister of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills.

9.1 Who can file claims and under what circumstances

Ground for claim	Who can claim	Deadline for filing claim
The institution no longer holds a certificate	A student enrolled in an approved program at the time the institution ceased to hold a certificate	The student must file the claim within one year of the date the institution ceased to hold a certificate
Example: On December 1, 2018, the registrar cancels the certificate issued to Institution ABC. A student enrolled in an approved six-month program paid tuition and completed only three months of studies. The student must file a claim by December 1, 2019.
Grounds for claim	Who can claim	Deadline for filing claim
The institution misled the student regarding a significant aspect of an approved program	Any student who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• is or was enrolled in the approved program, and</li> <li>• has exhausted the institution's dispute resolution process</li> </ul>	The student must file the claim within one year of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• completion</li> <li>• dismissal, or</li> <li>• withdrawal</li> </ul>
Example: Six months into a two-year program at Institution XYZ, a student learns that – contrary to what was specified in her enrolment contract – the second year of the program is delivered online rather than in-class. The student goes through the dispute resolution process established by Institution XYZ but remains unsatisfied and withdraws from the program on March 1, 2019. The student must file a claim by March 1, 2020.

9.2 How the claim process works

The tables below outline the processes for claims against the Fund for each of the allowable grounds.

To file a claim, a student must submit all of the information and records, if available, listed on the claim form by the one year deadline.

While deadlines apply to parts of the process, the trustee may extend, at the request of the student or the institution or its own initiative, the time period for responses and submissions. The trustee cannot extend the one year deadline to file a claim. The trustee may also consolidate claims.

The trustee

Claims are adjudicated by the trustee, who was appointed by the Minister of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills.

All Trustee decisions since September 1, 2023 will be published on the PTIB website.

The Registrar has the discretion to post information she believes is in the public interest. The decisions will be posted for 3 years.

Institution no longer holds a certificate
Who	What	When
Student	File a claim using the form at: www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca	Within one year of the date the institution ceased holding a certificate
Trustee	Provides a summary of the claim to the institution	As soon as practicable after receiving the claim from the student
Institution no longer holds a certificate (the certificate was cancelled or surrendered)	May respond to the claim	Within seven days of receiving the summary from the trustee

This is done by submitting a form to the registrar. The form is available at: www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca
Registrar	If the registrar determines that special circumstances prevent the student from attending the comparable program, the claim will be forwarded to the trustee.  If the registrar determines that there are no special circumstances, the student may still elect to accept the train-out option.

Trustee	Adjudicates the claim to determine whether any refund should be issued, and provides written reasons to the student, the institution and the registrar

For more information about comparable programs, see Section 9.2.5.

Claim the student was misled
Who	What	When

9.3 Approved claims may result in payments to student, the government or an institution

Type of approved claim	Type of payment from the Fund
A student is enrolled in an approved program at the time the institution's certificate is cancelled or surrendered	If the registrar appoints a train-out institution to provide a comparable program, payments from the Fund are made to the train-out institution to cover the cost of completing the program. If the registrar determines that there is no comparable program, or there is a comparable program but special circumstances prevent the student from attending, and the student has received student financial assistance, payments from the Fund are first applied to any outstanding student loans. Otherwise, the payment from the Fund is made to the student.
The student was misled regarding a significant aspect of the program	If the student has received student financial assistance, payments from the Fund are first applied to any outstanding student loans. Otherwise, the payments from the Fund are made to the student.

9.4 Repayments to the Fund

Institutions are required to reimburse the Fund for any payments resulting from approved claims.

9.5 Comparable programs

The registrar may appoint an institution (the train-out institution) to provide a comparable program to students who were enrolled in an approved program and had not completed their program at the time an institution ceased to hold a certificate.

PTIB may invite institutions to make proposals to be appointed a train-out institution. In determining whether a program is comparable, the registrar will take into account the following considerations, among others:

- (a) program content
- (b) location from which the program is offered
- (c) tuition
- (d) start and end date of the program
- (e) date the institution offering the program was initially certified
- (f) whether institution is registered or designated
- (g) institution's most recent inspection report
- (h) institution's category assessment
- (i) institution's compliance history
- (j) institution's capacity to provide comparable program
- (k) reasonableness of the institution's plan for accommodating students
- (l) if the program leads to employment in a career occupation that is regulated by a regulator, institution's standing with regulator's requirements
- (m) date the institution last offered the program

Chapter 10: Reconsideration, appeal and review

This chapter of the manual supports:

- Sections 47-56 of the Private Training Act
- Section 13 of the Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation

Certified institutions may apply for a reconsideration or file an appeal of certain decisions of the registrar. Uncertified institutions may only request a review of administrative penalties.

10.1 Reconsideration

Certified institutions may apply for a reconsideration of a decision by the registrar to:

- Refuse to issue a certificate
- Suspend a certificate, or
- Impose an administrative penalty

Reconsiderations must be based on one or more of the following grounds:

- The registrar made an error in law
- The registrar did not observe principles of natural justice, such as administrative fairness
- New evidence is available that was not available at the time the registrar made the decision

Evidence that the institution has subsequently remedied the contraventions that formed the basis for the enforcement action is not in itself grounds to request a reconsideration.

To request a reconsideration:

- Submit a Request for Reconsideration form available in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab at www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca citing at least one of the grounds listed above
- Include the reconsideration fee ($100)
- Ensure the request is received by the registrar within the following timelines:
  - for reconsideration of a certificate refusal or suspension, no more than 30 days after receipt of the decision from the registrar
  - for reconsideration of an administrative penalty, no more than 15 days after the determination imposing the penalty is served on the institution

The Registrar's Rules of Practice and Procedure for Reconsiderations are available in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab at www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca.

The table below shows the possible outcomes of reconsiderations. In each case, the registrar will issue written reasons.

Decision being reconsidered	Possible outcomes
Refusal to issue certificate	Confirm refusal	Overturn refusal and issue a certificate
Administrative penalty	Affirm the penalty	Rescind the penalty
Certificate suspension	Confirm the suspension	Cancel the suspension

10.2 Appeal to the commissioner

The following decisions may be appealed to the commissioner:

- Reconsideration decisions by the registrar regarding:
  - certificate refusal
  - certificate suspension
  - administrative penalties
- Decisions by the registrar to cancel a certificate.

The commissioner

The commissioner is appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council for a term of five years, with the option of reappointment.

To file an appeal:

- Complete a notice of appeal, available at www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca
- Include the appeal fee ($100)
- Send it to PTIB to the attention of the commissioner along with the applicable fee, and
- Ensure it arrives within 30 days from the date of the reconsideration decision, or the date the institution received notice of a certificate cancellation.

10.2.1 Appeal process

As a general rule, when deciding an appeal, the commissioner will consider only the records that were before the registrar. However, the commissioner may consider additional records where it is reasonably required for a full and fair disclosure of all matters related to the decision under appeal.

Several provisions of the Administrative Tribunals Act apply. For example, the commissioner:

- Cannot address questions relating to the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms or the British Columbia Human Rights Code
- Cannot be compelled to testify or produce evidence in any civil proceeding, and
- Is protected from personal liability in relation to the good faith exercise of his or her powers and duties

10.2.2 Orders from the commissioner

After considering an appeal, the commissioner may:

- Dismiss the appeal
- Allow the appeal and give any directions to the registrar that the commissioner considers appropriate in the circumstances, and/or
- Vary the decision under appeal (this can include reducing the amount of an administrative penalty).

The commissioner will give written reasons to the institution and the registrar, and make these reasons publicly available.

In exceptional circumstances, the commissioner may require an institution to pay all or part of the appeal costs, where the conduct of the institution in relation to the appeal is found to have been improper, vexatious, frivolous or abusive, and file the order with the British Columbia Supreme Court, giving it the same force and effect as a judgment of that court

Decisions of the commissioner are final and may not be appealed.

10.3 Review of administrative penalties (uncertified institutions only)

Uncertified institutions may request a review of any administrative penalty imposed by the registrar.

Reviews must be based on one or more of the following grounds:

- The registrar made an error in law
- The registrar did not observe principles of natural justice, such as administrative fairness, and/or
- New evidence not available at the time the decision was made is available

To request a review:

- Submit a written Request for Review form which PTIB will provide with the administrative penalty, citing at least one of the grounds listed above
- Ensure that the request is received by PTIB within 15 days of the penalty being served on the institution

Reviews are carried out by review officers – designated employees of the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills. Review officers may consider new information, and have the authority to rescind or affirm an administrative penalty. They may also reduce an administrative penalty in circumstances where it is considered excessive.

Review officers will give written reasons to the institution and the registrar. Administrative penalties affirmed or reduced are payable within 30 days of service of the review decision.

Review decisions are final and may not be appealed to the commissioner.

Appendix 4: New Program Information and Records For All New Programs

Institutions must submit an application that includes the following information for each new program, whether the program requires approval or is a program that does not require approval.

For new programs that require approval, use the Application – New Program.

To request confirmation of whether a new program requires approval, including programs that you believe do not require approval, use the Request for Confirmation of Program Class form.

Application forms are available on the Forms, Templates and Resources page of the PTIB website. Email the completed application along with all required records to PTI@gov.bc.ca.

The registrar will assess whether the program requires approval and, if so, the class.

General Program Information

A program may consist of one course or a series of courses of training or instruction.

Institutions must submit a program outline when submitting a program for approval or a program change application.

A program outline must include specific required elements. A sample program outline is available in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab at

<https://www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca/form-library>

Courses and course outlines

A course is a part of a program. A program may include one or a series of courses.

If a program includes only one course, an institution may choose to provide a combined program/course outline – a program outline that includes all elements required in both.

If an institution's program includes more than one course, the institution must provide a copy of the outlines for all the courses in the program when submitting the program for approval. If an institution submits a program change which affects a course, it must also submit a revised course outline.

Course outlines must be provided to students before they start the course. The institution may provide them on the first day of class for the course.

Course outlines must include specific requirements. See the PTIB Course Outline Sample which is available in the Forms, Templates and Resources tab at www.privatetraininginstitutions.gov.bc.ca.

2. What should learning objectives look like?.....
3. How many learning objectives should a program have? .....
4. Should every learning objective for the program be in the program outline?.....
5. What is the PTIB looking for in the learning objectives section of an outline, and why?.....
6. Common problems with learning objectives in program and course outlines.....
7. Some online resources on learning objectives and how to write them.....

1. What are learning objectives, and why are they important?

A clear learning objective states knowledge, a skill or an attitude a learner will be able to demonstrate upon completion of the program or course. The learning objectives are the most important section of your program or course outline, because they:

- define the type, breadth and depth of learning students are expected to achieve
- provide objective benchmarks for assessment
- clearly communicate expectations to students
- clearly communicate graduates' knowledge and skills to prospective employers
- define units of learning
- guide the instructor and the student

The Private Training Regulation requires that:

- Learning objectives must be relevant to the career occupation for which the program is intended to prepare the student
- The program title must be consistent with the learning objectives

2. What should learning objectives look like?

Learning objectives are written as statements (usually in a point-form list) using action verbs such as: identify, recognize, describe, demonstrate, analyze, calculate, design, diagnose, assess.

Examples: Upon successful completion of this program/course, students will be able to:

- identify potential safety hazards in the workplace
- demonstrate professional standards of waste prevention
- design an effective marketing plan for a small business

Learning objectives must be measurable or observable. Evaluation methods such as written and practical exams are chosen based on the program's learning objectives, and evaluation tools are designed to measure how well students are meeting them.

Avoid using words such as understand, know, appreciate, learn, which are not measurable and/or relate to the process of study rather than the end result.

3. How many learning objectives should a program have?

This varies depending on the scope of the program. Learning objectives are the foundation on which a curriculum is built. There should be enough learning objectives to establish the program's breadth and depth of study – the major areas within its field that are covered - and to show how a successful graduate will be prepared for the career occupations listed in the application and program outline. Learning objectives in a program outline will be more general than those included in course outlines.

4. Should every learning objective for the program be in the program outline?

In general, no. If the program consists of courses, each course outline will have a list of learning objectives for that course, and together they provide greater detail of the learning objectives of the program as a whole. The objectives in the program outline will be broader and more general.

However, if the program does not consist of individual courses, the learning objectives in the program outline must provide all the detail a student or an instructor needs.

When a new program application requiring approval is reviewed, or substantive changes to an approved program are applied for, the registrar will consider whether the learning objectives of the program are (or remain) relevant to the career occupations listed on the program outline.

As well, the Private Training Regulation refers to learning objectives in the contexts of both new program approval and ongoing program compliance: various aspects of program design and delivery (such as admission requirements, intake model and maximum class size, course order, program length) must be appropriate to enable students to meet the learning objectives of the program.

For PTIB staff to determine whether program design and delivery, as described in your application, will enable students to achieve learning objectives, the objectives must be properly expressed, and there must be enough of them to show the full breadth and depth of the curriculum.

6. Common problems with learning objectives in program and course outlines

PTIB staff may ask you to revise your learning objectives if:

- They are not student-focused (e.g. they describe what the program covers, rather than specifying skills/knowledge a graduate will be able to demonstrate)
- They are vague or too broad
- They are too few to effectively show the program's scope
- They are too specific to effectively show the program's scope

- They do not use action verbs
- They are not measurable or observable

Until the learning objectives are expressed effectively other aspects of the program cannot be assessed in relation to them.

You may be asked to revise your program title and/or career occupations if learning objectives are not relevant to the career occupation for which the program is intended to prepare the student, or if the program title is not consistent with the learning objectives.

At a designated institution, ensuring appropriate learning objectives is a responsibility of the Senior Educational Administrator (SEA). Revisions should be done in consultation with the curriculum designer.

Appendix 7: Admission requirements

1. What are admission requirements, and why are they important? .....
2. Admission requirements or admission procedures? .....
3. What should admission requirements include? .....
4. Setting your program’s admission requirements .....
5. In-house testing, equivalents and prior learning recognition .....
6. Subjective and/or non-quantifiable admission requirements .....
7. Other requirements to participate in work experience or employment .....
8. Common problems with admission requirements .....

1. What are admission requirements, and why are they important?

Admission requirements are the skills, knowledge and/or other background, including minimum language proficiency, a student must have to be admitted to a program and that make it likely the student will successfully complete the program. Appropriate admission requirements support student retention, success and satisfaction, which is good for both students and the institution.

Admission requirements may not be varied or waived by either an institution or a student, and they must be applied consistently to all students in the program.

Student records must show that admission requirements have been met by each student, and have been applied consistently to all students.

Should you want to change the admission requirements listed with PTIB, you must first obtain PTIB’s consent.

2. Admission requirements or admission procedures?

Admission requirements are different from admission procedures.

In general, any requirement on which the decision to admit a student to a program will be based, in whole or in part, is an admission requirement. If it is part of the admitting process, but will not influence the decision whether to admit a student, it is an admission procedure.

Admission procedures might include the following:

- Completion of application form
- Payment of application fee
- Proof of identity
- Parental signature for minors

You may include admission procedures in your program materials (program outline, etc.), but PTIB does not list these with program information. Some processes are administrative in nature (e.g. completion of forms, payment of fees) or may be legal requirements (parental signature for minors). These are either not subject to regulation or are covered in another context, such as requirements for the student enrollment contract.

3. What should admission requirements include?

Admission requirements should be clear and specific, and state a minimum standard to be met. Most programs should include a language proficiency requirement.

When developing admission requirements you should consider the following:

- Language proficiency: in English, and/or other language(s) of instruction if applicable, to a specified standard appropriate to the program. All programs, except language instruction (such as ESL), require proficiency in reading, writing, listening and speaking in the language(s) of instruction, at the level appropriate for the curriculum.
For example, if your students will be reading textbooks and other materials in English, they must read English at a level that will enable them to understand those program materials from the first day of classes. If there will be written assignments, essays or reports in English, students must be able to write at the level the program demands. The same is true for speaking and listening skills.
- Prior education, if required: e.g. Grade 12 or equivalent; Bachelor’s degree; Grade 10 math with minimum grade of C+.
- Prior experience, if applicable: e.g. program-related work or volunteering, with minimum duration and type of documentation required.
- Membership: registration, certification, licensure (for example, private pilot’s license, registered counsellor).
- Minimum age. (Having a parent or guardian sign for a minor is a legal requirement. It is not an admission requirement.) “Grade 12 or minimum 19 years of age” is common and meets StudentAid BC requirements.
- ‘Mature student’ status may be an admission requirement if it is an alternative to other requirements such as prior education, and it has a documentable definition.

4. Setting your program’s admission requirements

- Choose admission criteria and standards that address all skills and/or knowledge students will need to succeed from their first day in this program.
- Ensure each requirement you set effectively addresses the criterion it is meant to. For example, to prove a level of language proficiency, choose assessment tests or proof of prior education in the language of instruction. Citizenship or residency does not guarantee fluency in a language.
- Set clear standards by specifying minimum levels and acceptable scores: for example, IELTS 6.5; English 12 with a minimum grade of C+; 80 hours documented work or volunteer experience; etc.

- The criteria and standards you set must be documentable, by the student or another organization (e.g. Grade 12 diploma, IELTS results, prior credential or transcript, letter of reference), or by means of a test or process designed and administered by your institution.
- If you design a test of your own, it must effectively assess the applicant’s knowledge of the subject. Be prepared to provide a copy to PTIB if requested. (See also following section.)
- If there are equivalents you will accept they must be specified, and are considered part of the admission requirements. A detailed Language Proficiency Policy is also considered part of your Admission Requirements for each program it applies to. Both must be included in the program outline and posted on your website. Changes to a Language Proficiency Policy or to the list of accepted tests, scores, educational equivalents, etc. for a program require consent as changes to Admission Requirements.
- A program designed to teach intermediate or advanced skills must have admission requirements that ensure students already have an appropriate level of skills and knowledge in the program area.
- If your program is in a regulated field (e.g. health occupations) the admission requirements may be set by the regulator. It is your responsibility to know if this applies to a program you are applying for or offering, and if so to ensure you set, maintain and apply the regulator’s minimum admission requirements.

5. In-house testing, equivalents, and prior learning recognition

Admission requirements often specify standardized assessments such as IELTS, TOEFL, or CELBAN (with a minimum acceptable score for each), with the option of taking the institution’s own test instead. Or they may specify certain courses a student must have taken, usually with a minimum grade (e.g. Math 10 with a B, English 12 with a C, Biology 12 with a B), “or equivalent”.

If you are using a non-standard test to determine whether admission requirements are met, you must ensure it is equivalent to a standard test. For example, if you design an admissions test of your own for language proficiency and/or any other requirement, it must effectively assess the applicant’s knowledge of the subject(s) it covers. Be prepared to provide a copy to PTIB of any assessments developed by your institution for use in admissions, if requested, and be prepared to show that the test is effective and equivalent to standardized measures of the same subject matter. This may include providing confirmation from an independent subject matter expert.

If you develop a course that a student must successfully complete in order to meet an admission requirement, the course and its evaluation must be sufficient to demonstrate the student has the same level of understanding as someone who completed the course at a high school. For example, if the admission requirement is Grade 11 biology, your course must be equivalent to a BC public course. If you develop your own courses for equivalencies, you will be asked to submit course outlines to show that these will adequately prepare students for admission to the institution. PTIB will review the outlines to ensure they accurately show the course content and what the course can be used for.

If you use a prior learning assessment process, it may accept a student's prior education or experience to be equivalent to no more than 50% of the hours of instruction of the program. (For more information and the exceptions to this, see Private Training Regulation s.42.)

6. Subjective and/or non-quantifiable admission requirements

These include pre-existing skills, aptitude, maturity, etc. If they are included in admission requirements, these are usually assessed by means of an interview, assessment, portfolio, audition and/or essay.

Examples:

- Interview: is it meant to determine aptitude, maturity, oral language proficiency, or otherwise help establish whether candidates are prepared to succeed? If so, it is an admission requirement.
  - However, if an interview is just a chance to get acquainted and find out how the applicant heard about the program, it is an admission procedure, not an admission requirement, even if all applicants must do it. See Section 2 above.
- Portfolio: does the portfolio's content help you make an admission decision? If so, it is an admission requirement, and there must be documentation of criteria for assessing the work and what standards must be met.
  - If the portfolio is meant only to give the instructor an idea of the student's work to date, media used, etc., it is a procedure. See Section 2 above.
- Student statement: A statement by which the student represents to the institution that they meet admission requirements, such as skills difficult to test or document (e.g. for backcountry guiding programs), is an admission requirement.
  - If a student may be admitted based on his or her own statement of background and preparedness it is very important that the questions asked and criteria for assessing responses be effective and rigorous, for protection of both the student and the institution.

Note: for any of these, the rationale for making admission decisions need not be explained in the admission requirements, but it must be articulated in the tools used for assessing the interview, portfolio, audition, etc., and the records you keep to demonstrate it has of having done so – this is your evidence of compliance with the regulation, and it may be required during audits, inspections and/or designation reviews.

7. Other requirements to participate in work experience or employment

Some items often listed in admission requirements may not need to be met before admission into the program, but are required to complete the program. These usually relate to eligibility for work experience (WE) placement and/or employment in the field, and include things like a negative TB test, current immunizations, and satisfactory criminal record check. Usually WE hosts will require these to have taken place recently (within six months of start of the placement or employment is common), so having students meet these requirements before the start of a long program may not make sense.

Requirements to attend a WE (including specifics such as type of criminal record check) must be included in the student enrollment contract and should be included in the admission requirements or elsewhere in the program outline to ensure students understand their importance, and help them make an informed choice about whether this program is right for them.

For programs leading to an occupation regulated by a regulator, the requirements of the regulator for employment in the career occupation must also be included in the student enrolment contract.

8. Common problems with admission requirements

PTIB staff may ask you to clarify or revise your admission requirements if:

- Requirements do not fully address the language proficiency a student must have to achieve the learning objectives of the program, setting a realistic minimum level of proficiency and effectively covering reading, writing, listening and speaking.
- The various standardized English assessment/test scores listed as part of the language proficiency requirements are not equivalent to each other.
- Requirements are not consistent in their effect for all applicants to the program. (Different measures may be used depending on a student's background, but all measures must ensure the same minimum level of preparation in areas essential to achieving the learning objectives. The admission requirements as a whole must cover all potential applicants to the program.)
- Requirements cannot be confirmed by the institution and documented in students' records (other than exceptions such as talked about in s.6 above).
- Requirements are not consistent between the application form, program outline, program evaluation report, and/or other program materials.
- A requirement is too vague: for example, a requirement for "good English proficiency" or "basic computer skills" is subjective (it does not define 'good' or 'basic'), and does not describe how an applicant is expected to demonstrate or document that they have the required skill.
- It is not clear whether an interview contributes to the admissions decision.
- It is not clear how the institution conducts interviews consistently for all applicants.
- When an in-house English proficiency assessment is an option:
  - The test does not appear to cover all areas of language proficiency skills – reading, writing, listening and speaking.
  - It appears that the in-house test is not an effective equivalent to standardized tests.
- Admission procedures have been included as admission requirements.

1. What is a work experience?

A work experience (WE) is part of a program in which a student applies and practices skills and knowledge learned in the program in a work-place setting. It is provided by a host organization in a formal agreement with the institution. The work performed by the student must be relevant to the learning objectives of the program. The student must be supervised by a person who is employed or retained by the host organization and who is qualified in a career occupation relevant to the program the student is taking.

There are four types of work experience recognized by the Private Training Regulation:

"clinical placement" means a type of work experience component

- (a) that is part of an approved program that leads to a career occupation in a health field,
- (b) in which no more than 12 students are supervised by one instructor, and
- (c) that consists of not more than 50% of the total hours of the program;

"cooperative placement" means a type of work experience component

- (a) that consists of not more than 50% of the total hours of the program, and
- (b) for which a student is paid;

"practicum" means a type of work experience component

- (a) that, subject to subsection (2), consists of not more than 20% of the total hours of the program, and
- (b) for which a student is not paid;

"preceptorship" means a type of work experience component

- (a) in which one student is supervised by one preceptor, and
- (b) that, subject to subsection (2), consists of not more than 10% of the total hours of the program.

All work experiences in approved programs must be one of these four types, and each must comply with its definition as set out in the regulation. For example, you may not refer to a work experience as an 'internship'. The only exception to the definitions and duration limits above is when a regulator (e.g. a College under the Health Professions Act) requires a WE to have a different duration or title.

2. Can a program have an optional work experience?

No. A work experience is an integral part of a program. There may be two versions of a program, one with a work experience and one without: these would be considered two separate programs, and a complete program application would be required for each.

Students may transfer between programs with or without a work experience, but this must be their own choice. If a student has enrolled in a program with a WE and there is no placement available, the student may be entitled to a full refund and may make a complaint to PTIB.

3. Can students be required to find their own placement?

No. Every student who enrolls in a program with a work experience and successfully completes the coursework and any other reasonable requirements for participation in the work experience must be provided with a placement. Students may be encouraged to seek their own placement, e.g. by including job search skills and exercises in the program curriculum, but it is still the institution's responsibility to ensure there is a placement for every student in the program by the end of the program.

Similarly, participation in work experience cannot be conditional on such factors as students passing interviews or receiving an offer from a host. If the institution has contracted with the student for a program with a work experience, it must provide the work experience.

4. What are the requirements when applying for a program with a work experience?

Every application for a new program with a work experience must include:

- a work experience policy (sample/template is available on the PTIB website – see link below)
- a list of the organizations that will provide placements. There must be enough hosts already in place to accommodate the maximum number of students in the program. PTIB staff may ask to see your agreements with hosts either when you apply for a new program or after a program is approved.
- A description of the activities that students will undertake during the work experience component(s) of the program. (See #7 below for more information on expectations for this list.) A sample/template work experience agreement with space for this information is available on the PTIB website – see link below.

5. What is a work experience policy?

A work experience policy provides specific required information about the work experience component(s) of a program.

Every program that has a work experience must have a work experience policy, and each work experience policy must include the following information:

- (a) the process by which a student is placed in a work experience component;
- (b) the process by which a student in a work experience component is evaluated;
- (c) the intervals at which work experience monitoring of a student will be undertaken;
- (d) the requirements for participation in a work experience component;
- (e) the number of hours of the work experience component;
- (f) identification of the work experience component as a clinical placement, cooperative placement, practicum or preceptorship.

6. Common problems with work experience policy in applications

Common reasons why PTIB staff may say that you need to revise your work experience policy:

- It does not include all the required elements listed in the Private Training Regulation s.41
- One or more of the provisions of the work experience policy is non-compliant with any applicable provision of the regulation
- There are inconsistencies within the policy, or between the policy and other program documents or information (e.g. the duration of the work experience in the policy doesn't match that in the program outline)
- The policy is not fair and reasonable (whether due to terms of one of the required elements, or any other aspect of the policy)

7. What is required for the list of activities student will undertake during WE?

Institutions must develop for each work experience a set of activities reasonably achievable within its duration, based on and supporting students' achievement of the program's learning objectives (LO). This ensures students are informed and have realistic expectations about their work experience. It helps institutions in monitoring placements to ensure they are consistent with terms of their agreements with both hosts and students, and in maintaining records to show compliance with work experience requirements. It provides hosts with clarity as to their role, and with specific criteria for student evaluation which the institution can then link with program learning objectives.

PTIB will look for:

- ✓ A number, type and variety of activities sufficient and appropriate to give students some experience with, or practical exposure to, all or most of the program-level learning objectives.
- ✓ A number, type and variety of activities that are realistically achievable within the duration of the WE.
- ✓ Adherence to WE requirements of other regulator(s) where applicable.

- ✓ For some WE, activities may be focused in specific skill areas that make up a subset of the program learning objectives – e.g. an HCA practicum focused on Acute Care skills.
  - If the WE has a focus specific to a subset of the program LO, that should be clear in the WE information in the program documents – program outline, course outline, and/or WE policy, or clearly indicated in the WE title, not only in the description of activities.
- ✓ For a short WE in a long program with many LO, the purpose is more to expose the student to the workplace environment than to involve them in comprehensive hands-on experience across the program LO. Activities for these WE will likely be more geared to observation and assistance than tasks or projects that the student is responsible for.
- ✓ The list is specific and firm, and avoids exceptions and qualifiers (e.g. “a selection of”, “as applicable”), that reduce or make it unclear which activities or how many on the list a student might actually do.

8. Can a third party be used to manage a work experience?

If you choose to contract with an organization that offers work experience management services to handle this for you, you are still responsible to ensure that all aspects of your work experience and work experience policy are compliant with the Private Training Act and Regulation. Read their materials carefully to ensure their policies, procedures and practices are compliant. Be prepared to provide copies of any of their materials and your agreement with them to PTIB if requested, either as part of a new program application or at any time after the program is approved.

Regardless of who manages the work experience your institution must monitor students on placement directly: you may not assign this responsibility to a third party.

9. Common problems with work experience in program-related applications

Whether in applications for new programs or for changes to approved programs, common problems include:

- Work experience type not specified
- Work experience type not consistent: different types are mentioned in different parts of the application materials
- Terms of the work experience are not compliant with the regulatory requirements (e.g. a practicum that exceeds 20% of overall program duration, or an unpaid co-op)
- The list of hosts is missing, or is not adequate to accommodate the maximum class size
- The hosts listed are not suitable to provide work that is relevant to the learning objectives of the program

Appendix 9: Intake Models and Class Size

1. What is an Intake Model, and why is it important?.....
2. Intake Model definitions .....
3. Maximum number of students that may be admitted to the program .....
4. What information is the PTIB looking for about the intake model and class size? .....
5. Common problems with intake models in program applications .....

1. What is an Intake Model, and why is it important?

The Intake Model is the plan and schedule you have for admitting students to a single offering of the program. It supports student success by ensuring students are able to take the courses in the program in an appropriate order, and with a class structure that is appropriate to the teaching methods. For example, in some programs it ensures students have the support of a cohort progressing together through the program, enabling them to do group work, partner for labs, engage in role playing exercises, etc.. In other programs this may not be important, and the intake model may be chosen to help individual students get quick access to training through more frequent starts.

2. Intake Model definitions

There are two types of intake models defined in the Private Training Regulation:

"intermittent intake model" means a student intake model in which students are admitted into a program of instruction at particular times of the year;

In an intermittent model, a student may start only at specific points in the program. It is the appropriate model for most programs, including distance delivery using synchronous teaching methods.

Many programs have a single intake point with all students starting together. Some programs have multiple intermittent intake points, e.g. at the start of each course, or at the start of each term. Multiple intermittent intake starting points may work for programs in which courses or course blocks may be taken in any order.

"continuous intake model" means a student intake model in which there is continuous admission of students throughout a program of instruction;

In a continuous intake model, a student may start at any time. This may be appropriate for self-paced learning, distance delivery using asynchronous teaching methods, or for language training.

3. Maximum number of students that may be admitted to the program

This is the highest number of students that may be enrolled in a single offering or cohort of the program, or (for programs with self-paced or asynchronous teaching methods) at any one time. This is not asking about how many times the program will be offered in a year. Maximum number of students that may be admitted to the program is determined by various factors, including:

- appropriate student/instructor ratio and/or student group size for the curriculum
- size of classrooms
- space/facilities/equipment required for learning and practicing applied skills
- for distance delivery: instructor capacity, technical and tech support capacity, and administrative support capacity
- agreements with suitable hosts for programs with work experience, if applicable

4. What information is PTIB looking for about the intake model and class size?

These elements of an application tell us at what point(s) in the program students will start their studies, whether new students may be joining a program already in progress, and if so, how often and at what points, and the maximum number of students in the program at any one time.

Intake model considerations include course progression/order in which material is taught, classroom dynamics and teaching methods used, and any other consideration relevant to the specific program.

Class size considerations include student/instructor ratio, capacity of facilities and equipment, sufficiency of materials for students and instructors, classroom dynamics and teaching methods used, and any other consideration relevant to the specific program.

The Program Evaluator's comments (if required) must confirm that this intake plan is appropriate to support student success in the program: that all students will have an equal likelihood of achieving the learning objectives no matter when they start the program or which intake they are part of.

5. Common problems with intake models in program applications

PTIB staff may ask you to clarify your intake model information if:

- The maximum class size doesn't appear to be supported by the program and/or institutional resources you have described.
- Information provided appears to refer to multiple separate offerings of the program (e.g. the total number you plan to start in a calendar year) rather than to a single offering.
- The intake model appears inappropriate for the program structure: e.g. continuous intake for an in-class or synchronous online program with courses that must be taken in a specific order.
- The information provided in the application differs from that in the Program Evaluation report; if so, we will need confirmation of the model to be used, and if it is different from what the evaluator originally reviewed, his/her confirmation that the model to be used is appropriate.

What is the New Program Evaluation, and why is it required?

A new program evaluation is a required part of an application for a Class A program submitted by a designated or interim designated institution, or by an applicant for a designation certificate. It may also be required, at the registrar's discretion, for any other new program or program change requiring approval. It provides the registrar with insight into various aspects of the program, related resources and delivery, from the point of view of an independent person who has expert knowledge of the field of study and careers for which it is intended to prepare the student.

Why is a Program Evaluation required for a program in a regulated field?

The Private Training Institutions Branch administers the Private Training Act and associated regulations, which focus on student protection. Other regulators such as health colleges and Transport Canada have their own mandates, which focus primarily on public safety. As such, other regulators' reviews of programs may not cover all the areas that the PTIB registrar is required to consider in deciding whether to approve a program. Therefore, a third-party evaluation is required to ensure the registrar has the required input on all aspects of the program specified in the Private Training Regulation from a person with appropriate education and experience in the program's subject matter and related occupation(s).

May the Registrar waive the requirement for a New Program Evaluation?

The registrar may waive the requirement for a program evaluation or elements of it, if all the information it is meant to provide is available for the program from some other source. However, generally, applications for Class A programs at Designated and Interim Designated institutions will continue to require a full program evaluation.

Registrar approval is required in advance to waive the requirement for a program evaluation or elements of a program evaluation. Decisions will be made on a program-by-program basis.

The registrar will consider the following criteria in determining whether to waive the requirement for a program evaluation or elements of a program evaluation for the purposes of a new program application:

- Whether a regulator/program approval body has conducted an evaluation that includes a review of curriculum, curriculum delivery and any specialized equipment or resources used in program delivery.
  - The registrar may request a copy of a regulator/program approval body's evaluation if it is available, or an institution may request that the registrar waive the requirement for a program evaluation by submitting a copy of a regulator/program approval body's evaluation, if available, and any correspondence related to the resolution of issues identified in that evaluation.
- Whether the new program application is for a variation of an already existing approved program
  - Whether a program evaluation was provided with the initial application (this applies when a new application is being considered for a variation of an already approved program), and if so, the length of time since the original application.
  - Whether there have been changes to the program since initial approval (this applies when a new application is being considered for a variation of an already approved program)
- Whether the program is being moved from one certified institution to another and the institutions share a common owner
- Whether the new program is the same as an existing program at the applicant institution, with a work experience component added/removed
- The compliance history of the institution
- Any other information the registrar considers relevant

A new program will not be exempt from the requirement for a program evaluation simply because it consists entirely of courses that are also part of other already-approved programs.

Institution requests for a Program Evaluation (PE) to be waived must be submitted to PTI@gov.bc.ca prior to submission of the new program application. The availability of this process does not change the expectation that applications are submitted complete with all required supporting documentation. Once the decision is received the application may be completed with all required elements and submitted to PTIB.

Any questions about evaluation requirements should be directed to PTIB before the program application is submitted.

Who does the evaluation?

The Program Evaluator must have expertise in an occupation directly relevant to the program. It's best if they also have experience in adult education, preferably curriculum design and/or teaching.

The Program Evaluator (or 'PE') must also have no conflict of interest that could affect their assessment of the program: they must not be a related party to the institution and must receive no benefit from the institution other than the payment for the evaluation.

How does an institution find an evaluator?

Institutions may find potential evaluators through professional associations, business networking, regulators, other institutions (public or private), members of their program advisory committee, etc. Also, the PTIB website usually provides a list of people with subject matter expertise in a variety of fields (see links at end of this guide): an appropriate PE may often be found on this list. Institutions may contact them directly to see whether they wish to take on an evaluation. (The list is unavailable occasionally during the process of soliciting and vetting new SMEs. Be prepared to use other sources.)

In choosing a prospective program evaluator, ask them for a formal CV or résumé, and take time to confirm the elements of their background that are relevant to the program you want them to evaluate: education/credentials, occupational experience, possible conflicts of interest or other relationship to the institution (e.g. work for another entity under the same ownership). The institution contracts with and pays the evaluator: be sure to establish terms in advance.

How does an institution choose an evaluator?

A program evaluator should meet at least the minimum instructor qualifications for the program (vocational, academic or language). See Private Training Act Policy Manual s.3.2.8 for reference.

For career training this would be a relevant credential plus minimum two years' occupational experience in career occupations that are relevant to the program of instruction or, if no credential, a minimum of ten years' occupational experience in a career relevant to the program of instruction.

Experience in teaching and/or curriculum design may be considered as part of the occupational experience, but this should not make up most of the experience.

The sample checklist below will help you determine if a proposed evaluator has an appropriate background. A formal CV/resume should be provided by any prospective PE. The CV/resume should be detailed and clearly outline the evaluator's credentials, job title(s), job duration(s) and job duties. A copy of the CV/resume will be required by PTIB to accompany the program evaluation report when submitted.

It is the institution's responsibility to ensure that the evaluator has the appropriate background and expertise. If an evaluation report is not completed by an appropriate PE the registrar may, at her discretion, decline to accept it as meeting the requirement and require an entirely new report. The registrar may also deny the application.

Sample PE checklist (vocational or practical training)

Credential(s) and occupational experience:

- The evaluator has a relevant credential and a minimum of 2 years full time occupational experience in career occupations that are relevant to the program of instruction.
OR
- The evaluator has no credential but has a minimum of 10 years full time occupational experience in career occupations that are relevant to the program of instruction.

CV/resume:

- The evaluator’s CV/resume clearly describes their credentials, job title(s), job duration(s) including specific dates, and job duties.

Conflict of interest:

- The evaluator is free of any possible conflict of interest or other relationship to the institution which may impact their impartiality.

Who arranges for and manages the evaluation?

The institution arranges the evaluation and site visit with the evaluator. Terms, including costs, are agreed upon between them. PTIB is not involved in these arrangements.

Virtual site visits are only accepted under exceptional circumstances and must be approved in advance by the PTIB.

What does the PTIB review in relation to a Program Evaluator?

In deciding whether an evaluator meets the minimum standards in the PTR, PTIB staff first look at the program outline that the PE has reviewed, specifically at the career occupation(s) for which the program is intended to prepare students (and to what level), whether the program is in a regulated field, the learning objectives, admission requirements and list of courses.

Then we look at the PE’s CV or résumé: do they have a credential in the field of the program, or one that is very closely related? Do they have experience in the occupation, or one of the occupations, that the program will prepare students for? Is their experience current and, if applicable, specific to Canada/BC? Does their background at very least meet minimum requirements in the PTR for an instructor in the program? If the program is in a regulated field, does the proposed PE meet the regulator’s requirements for practice in the field? If the program is to be offered by distance delivery, do they have experience and/or education relating to this?

These requirements are intended to ensure the PE has full and current knowledge of the occupation for which the program is intended to prepare students including, if applicable, regulation and legal scope of practice. Ideally, the PE will also have some background in adult education, to better equip him/her to assess the program design, materials, etc.

If the program combines two distinct areas of study, does the PE have adequate breadth of expertise to cover them both? If not, a second PE may be required; each could provide a separate report, or both could collaborate on one report. (See also #9, below.)

If the evaluator is on PTIB's SME list, we still need a copy of the person's current CV. While we have a CV on file it may not show details specifically relevant to your program area, and it may not show recent experience relevant to your program area.

Is a Program Evaluator (PE) the same as a Subject Matter Expert (SME)?

The terms are used differently by PTIB. A PE is someone who has been contracted by an institution to evaluate a specific program, while an SME is someone who has been contracted by PTIB to participate in inspections or designation reviews involving programs in their area of expertise. However, a PE needs the same type of qualifications as a Subject Matter Expert: in-depth subject-matter knowledge and experience, and unrelated to the institution.

Who may not be a Program Evaluator?

The PTIB will not accept an evaluator who:

- Works for the applicant institution, or for a related company
- Was involved in developing the curriculum to be used in the program, or in developing another program on which this one is based
- Would for any other reason have a conflict between their duty to evaluate the program impartially and their own self-interest, financial or otherwise
- Does not have current occupational experience directly relevant to the program. E.g. a Paralegal program must be evaluated by someone with experience as a paralegal, not as a lawyer.

How is the evaluation report submitted, and when?

The complete evaluation report must be sent directly to the PTIB by the program evaluator. Where appropriate, the PE may choose to include photographs or other documentation with their report.

The report should be emailed as an attachment and sent to PTI@gov.bc.ca.

The institution's response to the PE's recommendations should be submitted as part of the program application. Do not submit the application before the report is finished and any changes based on the PE's recommendations have been made. Ensure supporting materials have been updated as needed.

What must the evaluation cover?

The Private Training Regulation s.13 (2) (b) lists what a program evaluation must cover. A report template is provided on the PTIB website (Forms, Templates and Resources), and via a link at the end of this Guide. Always download a new copy of the report template for each review, as it is revised periodically. Reports submitted on outdated forms are not accepted.

What if the program combines two or more subject areas?

For minor components that are outside the PE's area of expertise, the PE should be able to speak to whether they are an appropriate part of a program in this field or, if an unusual addition, how they add to the student's education and preparation for work in the field.

For major components in differing subject areas, more than one PE may be required. They should work together to demonstrate that each major subject area of the program is covered appropriately, and the combination is also appropriate in design and delivery.

Are there special requirements for programs using distance delivery?

If a program will be delivered either partially or entirely using distance modalities, the evaluation must include answers to all questions about the method(s) and resources to be used. The institution must provide access to the learning management system (LMS) and other resources such that the evaluator is able to review them all from both the student's and the instructor's perspectives.

Can the same report be submitted with more than one application?

Only under very specific circumstances. The same report may be submitted with programs or program elements that are the same: e.g. new applications for a program in versions with and without co-op could have the same basic report, with additional information provided for the version with co-op addressing the work experience questions and how the co-op contributes overall to the program. Or if two institutions are under the same management and are applying for identical programs at the same time, the same report may be submitted with both. In this case any differences in the details of delivery relating to facilities etc., and site visits to each, must be accounted for in the evaluator's report.

In most cases a separate report is required for each program. No matter how similar programs are, submission of reports that are largely or entirely the same seriously undermines PTIB's confidence in the validity of all of those reports. For the protection of all parties – the contracting institution, the evaluator, and prospective students - each evaluation report should very clearly reflect the program in the application for which it is submitted.

What is the PTIB looking for in a Program Evaluation Report?

An evaluation report must meet the requirements of the Private Training Regulation s.13 (1) (o) and s.13 (2) (b) to provide information that under PTR s.14 (g) must be considered by the registrar in deciding whether to approve the program.

The report must be complete, thorough, and clear. It must include responses to each question that address the information and records the evaluator reviewed and on which his/her opinion is based, and provide an explanation of the response (simply 'yes' or 'no', or a restatement of the question, is not enough). The responses should also make it clear the PE reviewed the institution's unique offering in its entirety. Program Evaluation Reports should not provide generic answers that could be used for other programs at other institutions.

Site visits: What if facilities and/or equipment aren't ready when the PE visits the site?

A site visit is a required part of a program evaluation. An institution should be ready to deliver a new program when they apply for it, but sometimes the facilities and/or equipment may not yet be fully prepared when the PE makes the site visit. If this is the case, the PE should explain in the report what is missing or remains to be done, and what explanation the institution has provided regarding their plans and projected timeline for completion. Both the institution and the PE should be prepared to provide additional information.

PTIB will follow up during review of the program application to see if the space is ready, and may ask the institution at that time to provide additional material such as photos, and possibly including an addendum to the evaluation report with the PE's confirmation that the facilities/equipment are ready.

Site visits: What if the program is delivered entirely online / remotely?

If the program will be delivered solely by distance modalities the institution may request a waiver of the requirement for an in-person/onsite visit. This must be done before either the report or the application is submitted, to ensure the application is not returned as incomplete.

The Program Evaluator made recommendations: what response is expected?

A thorough review usually produces at least one or two recommendations. The institution should provide PTIB with a response to PE recommendations along with the program application, explaining what changes (if any) are being made to the program as a result, and providing a rationale for any recommendations not followed.

The Program Evaluation has been submitted: what happens next?

PTIB reviews the evaluation report in conjunction with the rest of the application. If we have further questions about any of the subjects covered by the report, any of the PE's comments, and/or the report as a whole, we may ask for clarification from the institution, the program evaluator, or both.

If an evaluation report is not completed by an appropriate PE, lacks sufficient explanation of the evaluator's conclusions, does not clearly address specifics of the program, appears to have been modified after the PE signed it, and/or otherwise does not clearly reflect the program for which it was submitted, the registrar may require additional information or may, at her discretion, decline to accept it as meeting the requirement and require an entirely new report. The registrar may also deny the application and require the institution to start over.

Common problems with New Program Evaluations

A report may not be accepted as fulfilling the requirements of the Private Training Regulation s.13 (1) (o) and/or 13 (2) if it was prepared by someone who is not appropriately qualified, or if it is poorly prepared and does not provide the registrar with adequate information.

Other problems with program evaluations may require clarification, further input from the evaluator, or an entirely new report. These include:

- Information about the program provided to the PE by the institution does not match what is in the application form and/or the program outline.
- The program is substantively changed after the evaluation report is complete.
- The PE has not addressed all the questions in the report template.
- The institution has not responded to the evaluator's recommendations.
- Content and/or characteristics of the report suggest it was not based on a full review of the program for which it was submitted.

This is not meant to be an exhaustive list of requirements relating to this subject found in the Private Training Act, Private Training Regulation, and/or Fees and Student Tuition Protection Fund Regulation. It is your responsibility to be aware of all regulatory requirements that apply to your business.

Appendix 17: Category Assessment Criteria

1. Student withdrawal

The score for the student withdrawal criterion is determined as follows:

$$\text{Percentage of student withdrawal} = \frac{\text{Student withdrawals}}{\text{Student enrolment}} \times 100$$

Where

Student withdrawals = the number of students who withdrew from an approved program after the start date of the approved program during the previous fiscal year established by the institution

Student enrolment = the number of students enrolled in approved programs during the previous fiscal year established by the institution

The registrar must apply a category 1 rating for the student withdrawal criterion in an assessment if there are fewer than 10 students enrolled in an approved program.

Data for this criterion will be taken from the most recent student data report provided by the institution.

2. Compliance orders

The score for the compliance orders criterion is the number of compliance orders imposed by the registrar in respect of the institution during the previous fiscal year established by the institution.

3. Administrative penalties

4. Claims against the Fund

The score for claims against the Fund criterion is determined as follows:

$$\text{Percentage of approved claims} = \frac{\text{claims}}{\text{student enrolment}} \times 100$$

Where

Claims = the number of claims against the Fund approved by the trustee during the previous fiscal year established by the institution

Student enrolment = the number of students enrolled in approved programs of instruction during the previous fiscal year established by the institution.

5. Current ratio

The score for current ratio criterion is determined as follows:

$$\text{current ratio} = \text{current assets} / \text{current liabilities}$$

Where

Current assets = value of the institution's current assets in the previous fiscal year

Current liabilities = the amount of the institution's current liabilities in the previous fiscal year

6. Months of working capital

The score for the months of working capital criterion is determined as follows:

$$\text{Months of working capital} = \frac{(\text{current assets} - \text{current liabilities})}{\text{monthly expenses}}$$

Where

Current assets = the value of the institution's current assets in the previous fiscal year

Current liabilities = the value of the institution's current liabilities in the previous fiscal year

Monthly expenses = the amount determined by dividing the institution's expenses in the previous fiscal year by 12

Financial information for this criterion will be taken from the most recent financial statement provided by the institution.

7. Change in revenue

The score for the change in revenue criterion is determined as follows:

$$\text{Percentage change in revenue} = \frac{\text{revenue} - \text{revenue in preceding year}}{\text{revenue in preceding year}} \times 100$$

Where

Revenue = total revenue in the institution's previous fiscal year

Revenue in preceding year = total revenue of the fiscal year preceding the institution's previous fiscal year established by the institution

Financial information for this criterion will be taken from the most recent financial statement provided by the institution.

8. Profit margin

The score for the profit margin criterion is determined as follows:

$$\text{Profit margin} = \frac{\text{net income}}{\text{revenue}} \times 100$$

Where

Net income = net income in the institution's previous fiscal year

Revenue = total revenue in the institution's previous fiscal year

Financial information for this criterion will be taken from the most recent financial statement provided by the institution.

9. True trust

The score for the true trust criterion is determined as follows:

$$\text{True trust} = (\text{cash} + \text{cash equivalent} + \text{accounts receivable}) - \text{unearned tuition}$$

Where

Accounts receivable = accounts receivable from approved programs

Unearned tuition = unearned tuition from approved programs

Financials for this criterion will be drawn from the most recent financial statement provided by the institution.

10. Change of control

The score for the change of control criterion is:

- 1 if the institution has not had a change of control within the previous 2 years
- 2 if the institution has had a change of control within the previous 2 years

The following additional criteria apply to institutions applying for a designation certificate and institutions that hold a designation certificate:

11. StudentAid BC Support

The score for the StudentAid BC support criterion is determined as follows:

$$\text{StudentAid BC support} = \frac{\text{students receiving funding}}{\text{student enrolment}} \times 100$$

Where:

Students receiving funding = number of students who started or who are continuing in an approved program in the previous fiscal year established by the institution who received StudentAid BC funding in their student enrolment contract term

Student enrolment = the number of students enrolled in approved programs during the previous fiscal year established by the institution

Data for this criterion will be taken from Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills data sources.

12. International student enrolment

$$\text{International student enrolment} = \frac{\text{students of largest citizenship group}}{\text{student enrolment}} \times 100$$

Where

When requested by the Province to do so, the Institution will promptly execute and deliver to the Province any written consents or other instruments that the Province, acting reasonably, considers necessary or useful to exercise its retained rights in the Marks.

  - (1) The Licence:
    - (a) will terminate immediately if the Institution no longer holds a current and valid Designation Certificate, including if a current Designation Certificate:

  - (c) may be terminated by the Institution for its own convenience, by giving the Province written notice of termination, which will be effective on receipt by the Province, or immediately upon the Institution surrendering its Designation Certificate; and

12. Effect of Termination – Forthwith upon termination of the Licence for any reason:

- (a) the Institution will cease all reproduction and use of the Marks including any trade-marks, trade names, designs and permitted or other Identifiers that are confusing with the Marks or that are derived from or based on the Marks;

13. Infringements – If, during the subsistence of the Licence, the Institution becomes aware that any other party (other than an affiliate or licensee of the Province) is using a trade name, Identifier, trade-mark, get-up of goods, or mode of advertising or promotion that might reasonably amount to infringement, unfair competition, passing off or cybersquatting in respect of the Marks, the Institution will promptly report such activities to the Province.

14. Claims by Others – If the Institution learns that any person or entity is alleging that any of the Marks is invalid, infringes the rights of any party, or is open to any other form of attack, the Institution will not make any admissions in respect of the allegation and will promptly report the matter to the Province.

15. Proceedings – The Province will have the right, but not the obligation, to control and direct the conduct of all legal proceedings and negotiations with third parties relating to the Marks except:

  - (ii) the Institution will indemnify and save harmless the Province from and against all expenses, costs, damages, and liabilities that the Province incurs in connection with any proceeding that the Institution initiates against any such third parties; and

- (b) subject to the provisions contained in Section 14 above, the Institution may defend itself at all times from actions brought by others.

The Province may, in its absolute discretion, choose not to defend or prosecute any actions or any other proceedings with third parties that relate to the Marks and it will have no liability to the Institution for failing to defend or prosecute any such actions or proceedings.

16. Assignment – The Institution will not assign, grant or give to a third party, including to any successor of the Institution, any type of interest in the Licence or the Marks, or authorize any third party to use, display or reproduce the Marks, without first obtaining the written consent of the Province, which may be withheld for any reason or without reason. If the Province’s consent is given on any particular occasion, further consent will be required for every subsequent occasion. The Province may assign the Licence or any of the Marks at its sole discretion.
17. Disclaimer – The Province makes no representations or warranties to the Institution regarding the Marks, including those regarding ownership and whether or not the Marks infringes the rights of third parties. The Institution waives all claims against the Province regarding the Marks that it would have or might acquire but for the foregoing disclaimer.
18. Indemnity – The Institution will indemnify and save harmless the Province from and against any and all damages, injuries, liabilities, costs and expenses, including but not restricted to actual legal fees and costs, that may be incurred by the Province or claimed by any third parties against the Province in connection with any of the Services or business of the Institution or any negligent or wrongful conduct of the Institution, including misuse by it of the Marks.
19. Time/Waiver – The timely performance and observance of the parties’ obligations set out in these Terms of Use is an essential condition and:
  - (a) if the Province waives a particular default of the Institution, that will not affect or impair the rights of the Province regarding any other default of the Institution;

  - (c) in any event, the timely performance and observance by the Institution of its obligations will continue to be an essential condition without the need for specific reinstatement following particular waivers, extensions, or delays.
